You can earn this honored badge

This simple blue badge with the long silver rifle is one of the most coveted awards worn by the American Combat Soldier—from private up to the highest ranking officer. It's the badge of the Expert Infantryman. And you've got to be a good man to win it!

Proficiency in the arsenal of weapons used by the U. S. Army Infantry is one test you've got to pass—and it's a stiff one because the American Combat Soldier is the "shootingest," most versatile fighting man on earth. In addition, you've got to handle yourself on realistic patrols, know basic communications, display sterling qualities of leadership and conduct and be above average physically and mentally.

Because it's not an easy prize to win, the Expert Infantryman wears his badge proudly. It commands respect wherever he goes.

You can wear this badge of honor if you meet the stern qualifications demanded of the Infantry soldier. If you're between 18 and 34 and in top-notch physical condition... if you're the type that likes a rugged, adventure-filled life, chances are you'll make the grade.

Never have there been so many advantages offered to high-type young men as in this action-packed branch today. Never has Infantry service been more rewarding—more important to the preservation of peace. So don't hesitate. Inquire now at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

WASHINGTON DIGEST

They believe in the American legal principle that a person is innocent until he is proved guilty. But they appear to have convicted the accused in their own minds, feel they are guilty, and also have the feeling that anyone who objects to what the committee has done is guilty of taking sides with a traitorous person and, therefore, is himself indirectly guilty of treason.

Before me I have a letter. It is written in good English, emotional it is true, but obviously from an intelligent and educated person. It says in part:

"Why not be fair in your broadcasts? It is scandalous and criminal to murder a man's reputation on mere suspicion as is being done by certain committees investigating communism..."

So far so good. With a start I expected a strong defense of the Bill of Rights to follow. But no indeed! Listen to this "but":

You know perfectly well the necessity of the publicity against communism because there is no other way to arouse the electorate. You know there are Benedict Arnolds by the score in the administration's setup.

Wait a minute! Is it necessary to violate the Constitution to arouse the electorate? If you believe that, you believe in revolution. It's revolution if you do not use legal means in exercising your right to change the Constitution. But do you want to change the Constitution so the Bill of Rights is infringed? Not if you really mean what you say in the first paragraph of your letter. WHO'S SELLING U. S. DOWN THE RIVER?

As to whether there are "Benedict Arnolds" in the government, I have no doubt there may be foreign spies in the government, and it would be in favor of dealing with them much more drastically than present laws permit. I hope stronger laws will be drafted. So does congress. The department of justice has been working on such a law for some time. But to say the government is full of traitors is either utter nonsense or else the FBI is a lot of morons. Now let's read further from my listener's letter:

"Canada has officials in their government who are loyal to the country and cleared out the rats on their own initiative. We have men who are selling us down the river night and day."

Well, as to Canada, no one was publicly accused until the court had decided there was legal proof of his guilt. The names of those who had been accused and declared innocent were never revealed.

As to men "selling us down the river night and day," I will take the word of General Eisenhower in a political year, the President's word can't be taken. The general said: "This country keeps its major secrets pretty well."

Now the writer of this letter is sincere, believe me, according to his own word, in the fifth amendment, on both legal and moral grounds. Yet on the same page, speaking with natural, if illogical indignation he asks that the Bill of Rights be abrogated.

I understand this psychologically. I have found myself privately convicting at least one of the persons who was accused by a witness before the US-American activities committee although I know that investigation by the grand jury failed to find this person guilty. Perhaps more evidence will be introduced with which the accused can be convicted under the law, but as long as we pretend to be loyal Americans, we have to hold our tempers and withhold our judgments.

Perhaps before forming opinions on this subject, certainly before expressing them, instead of just coming to it, it might be well to count the 10 amendments composing the Bill of Rights and while counting, read them over carefully.

And maybe, as a birthday present to the Constitution, read the rest of the document.

SMASH INTO BERLIN CITY HALL

BERLIN, GERMANY — Facing the camera and standing apart from the crowd by reason of his impassioned gestures is one of the communists in the mob. Some 10 western sector police held up inside and came out only when they were promised freedom. Upon leaving the city hall, however, they were arrested. Berndt Schmitz, the cameraman who took this picture, was also arrested and held for a while. Secretary of State Marshall called for resistance in a press conference.

MR. AND MRS. WRIGHT PUT SON'S NAME ON U. S. HONOR ROLL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wright of Farmington have enshrined the name of their son, the late Glenn V. Wright, who served in World War II, on Washington Cathedral's National Roll of Honor. It was announced today by the Rev. Merritt F. Williams, a canon of the cathedral and chairman of the national war memorial committee.

The honored serviceman served as a private in the U. S. Army, and was killed in France Nov. 21, 1944. His name and war record will become a part of the only permanent National Roll of Honor known, now being established at Washington Cathedral for enshrinement in the War Memorial Chapel. This is to be the chief feature of the unfinished Patriotic Transsept. Here permanent books, preserving the Honor Roll, will commemorate for generations to come the men and women who offered themselves for the armed forces of this Republic in time of war.

Friends of Washington Cathedral of all faiths are unting throughout the nation to raise funds for its continued construction. No cost or obligation of any kind is involved, however, in the enrollment of veterans.
