

AN OLD PINE PIE SAFE is the proud possession of Mrs. Gordon Andrews of Plymouth. She has placed it in the family room, adjacent to the kitchen and uses it as an extension of her pantry. In days gone by, when pies were baked at home a multitude at a time, they were cooled in such a pie safe. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

A HOME-BUILT HARPSICHORD is a focal point in the Plymouth Home of Robert Jones, composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft College. Set against a wall which has been papered with the actual score of one of Mr. Jones' compositions, the room truly reflects its owner. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)
