Meadowbrook Murmurs

By Mrs. Dean Eckert
PHONE 0337-M

There is one thing for sure. This is one winter (1) we shall always remember. For a while last week we were tracking in snow. Instead of dripping eaves, we got plunked on the head with an icy clatter we opened the front door. After so much mild weather, we're happy to announce that this is the first January that we haven't felt envious of our Florida-bound friends. We just don't care if we do have some real winter now, do we?

It was January in 1920, that's 30 years ago, that Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Earle moved into their home at 2910 Eight Mile Road. They've seen a lot of changes in our neighborhood, of course, and both being street folks we know they've done a good deal in bringing about the good changes. Mr. Earle has been on the school board for several years, and his wife ever busy in the ladies' department. She was elected president for 1950 of the Clarenceville Mothers' Club last Wednesday at a potluck dinner held at her home. Mrs. Helen Griffin is the new vice-president. Mrs. Alma Woodcock the treasurer, and Mrs. Grace Stevens will keep the minutes.

Known as the oldest of the four mothers' clubs, the Clarenceville group, which meets every other week, intends to appropriate enough money this year to present our new gymnasium with 25 tables. Shop classes at the school will cooperate in building the tables, which will have removable legs for easy storage. So it looks like blizzards and better parties ahead.

We've been trying to guess just about how many dancing pairs that new gym will hold. Won't try to estimate the exact number but we'll bet that just about every "dancing couple" in the entire Clarenceville area would find enough room-room. Did you ever stop to realize how fortunate we are in having such a good-sized ball room for our very own use?

You'll be glad to hear that the once-a-month community dances are starting there again next Saturday night, January 28. The holidays sort of interfered with the former schedule of the last Saturday night of the month, so a good-sized crowd should be eager to go this time. Arthur Mann, our high school music director, will be there with his newly-organized dance band, and there will be both modern and old-time dancing they guarantee. In case you've forgotten, these dances go on all year . . . right through the summer. Tickets sold help to support the summer recreation program at the Clarenceville schools. You remember that it's the Clarenceville Recreation Commission sponsoring the affairs and they deserve plenty of appreciation for their efforts. Tickets at the door, folks.

The beautiful new piano, an Ev-eret console especially constructed for school use, is the latest dazzling addition at the new gym. A memorial to Mrs. Phyllis Pink, the piano is evidence of the spirit of cooperation and good will which is so prevalent here.

"Cheaper by the Dozen", the current rage in novel sales, must have gained a knowing grin from the George Scanlans of 29215 Dresden who had eleven children of their own. Now they're claiming highest honors for grandchildren, for eight of their nine living children are married and have produced 20 grandchildren to date. Is there anyone in the neighborhood who can beat that record?

Mrs. Willis Dix will go across the street this evening to a crude shower to be held in her honor at the Clarenceville residence, 21214 Middlebelt. Miss Cora Billings and Miss Marjory Morris are hostesses, and guests are members of the choir from the Farmington. Mrs. Armand Brunelle of 29322 Edgewood decided to make a real job of this business of convalescence, so she caught a west-bound plane Saturday morning. She hopes to spend a very restful two weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bernice Gunderson of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Spending this month in Chicago is Mr. Alfred Snook of Dresden Street who is visiting his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunerfager, bringing our "travel news" up to date for the week. Mrs. George Ferris of 29227 Dresden has concluded her two-month visit with her parents in England and is on her way home. And Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ellis, after seeing both of their youngsters through a siege of the chicken-pox, have left for California on a pleasant, month-long pleasure tour. Judy and Joan are staying with their grandparents, 29395 Roosevelt.

Several weeks ago we suggest-
