

Large Minnows Scarce Due To Great Demand

Biggest headache to bait dealers, according to their reports to the conservation department, is not a lack of business but too much of it — for scarce large-size minnows.

The department points out anglers might ease the situation by not taking a larger supply of bait than needed for the fishing trip. A considerable amount of bait is wasted. Another conservation measure suggested is that the fishing party not insist on giant minnows when smaller ones or other bait might actually be more desirable for certain types of fishing. Perch and calico bass, for example, would be equally apt to strike on a smaller minnow.

When large minnows are in tight supply, walleye and black bass fishermen might not go wrong in choosing night crawlers or other live bait. Frogs are considered ideal bass bait.

The department's fish division again cautions fishermen against dumping unused minnows and other live fish in the water.

A Great Beauty—A Great Car!

All great beauties have one thing in common—the ability to stand strikingly apart from the crowd, to be instantly recognizable as something very special.

Certainly Pontiac has that distinction to a rare degree. Wherever you go, you see the new Pontiac, you are sharply aware that this one car asserts itself in any company. And you, beautiful as Pontiac is, it has inner qualities which are even more desirable. Pontiac is built to be thoroughly good, to be an outstanding performer, a dependable, economical, completely satisfying car.

Yes, almost everybody knows that Pontiac is a great beauty. But only Pontiac owners really know that Pontiac is a great car in every way. You should be a Pontiac owner—dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!
