

THE FAINT ODOR of fresh asphalt is in the air round about Farmington. A lot of work has been done during the past week to make the roads in the City of Farmington smoother. It may not seem that way right at the moment what with the wet hard (to pan dall, but things will be different very shortly. Soon the bumps will be gone, the dust will be eliminated and we can all resume our normal, peaceful existence. This pose particularly for the City Commission who has been Neuring Areand River west of the Eight Allie Intersection the short areand River west of the Eight Allie Intersection has been completed to the Cut Off. Just a warning — take it easy when you are driving down that way. . . . .

Han "ANE GADDENERS ... around the city have been sticking pretty close to the garden hose the past few weeks and undoubtedly the city water pumps have been working overtime. It is all because of the dry spell we are now ex-periencing. There have been any warning from the City Halls as us-guess there is no water shortage. Anyway, that core, coloring currots seem to keep thristy these days and that has lower that helping a bit. But the worst part analysis of the core, the short has our market backst. Besides that, there will be the football season comise up and lots of other activities. So cheer up, kids, it isn't really as bad as you think. Then, who knows, maybe things have changed since our day. Kids probably are anxious to get back. What about it?

WORKING ON THE same did theme, this week we have a different twist. We were over stilling to Judge Schult the other day, and he brought out some inter-esting facts about traffic tickets. For one thing, the bulk of the folks receiving tickets are young - teeenagers, many of them. The average age is 22, the judge says. What's more, it's the young ones who are the repeaters. His Hoors also meted out some justice to some of the violators while we were there — he's bury doing that most of the line — and then he told us more about tickets. The telekst received we saw were among a growing clan, it seems — the "Relet received bilk". Passing on a hill int a smart operation. Natter of fact you're being a Chump if you try it.
