SUNSHINE LADY SAYS "WRITE A LETTER TO GET A LETTER"

Now is the time to make plans for those long winter days ahead, to calmly forget the sorrows and mistakes made during the past weeks.

On a dark, dull day, have you ever gone to your mail box and wished for a cheerful letter, only to find nothing? To get a letter, you must write a letter.

A cheerful note to Mrs. Mary Leech, 29 Overhill Road, Scarsdale, New York, will bring one back in return. Mrs. Leech is known throughout the United States as the "Story Lady". She writes hundreds of letters to shut in children. Mrs. Minnie Porter, Route One, Standish, is fun to exchange notes with. Her husband is a school teacher, and both are very active in church work. Nevertheless, she is never too busy to make a new friend.

Pearle Bearlee, 1014 S. Main, Charlotte, enjoys hearing from new friends as does Mrs. Pearl Symons, Randon, Oregon.

Mrs. Viola Cubie, 14673 Faircrest, Detroit 5, is the mother-in-law of Rev. Robert LaFleur, who has a great many friends in this area. She would enjoy a card or note.

Mrs. H. D. Fety, 11448 Columbia, Detroit 25, has been in poor health since the birth of her daughter over a month ago, and has had to return to the hospital. Would you drop her a note?

Have you ever dreamed of some far off country that perhaps some day you would like to visit? Why not do the next-best thing right now, and make a friend in that country, such as Lie Hien Dean, Tipkhauling, Java? Or Mrs. Dorothy Powell, Dunclun Binstead Road, Ryde, Isle of Wright, England?

Or Auckland Knight, Hawking, St. John, Antigua, British West Indies? His birthday is September 22. Why not send him a card (with a 5c stamp, please).

If you have some other country in mind, let me know. I have friends in more than 50 different countries.

RICHARD CORBIT TAKES BRIDE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Mary Emma Hickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Hickey of Marcus Hook, Pennsylvania, became the bride of Richard Corbit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Corbit of 25600 Orchard Lake Road July 29 at 3 p.m.

The Rev. Joseph Morton officiated at the service held in the Little Red Brick Church by the "Bride". The bride wore a white suit with a corsage of red rose buds. Helen Elizabeth Hickey, her sister, wore a pink suit with a corsage of pink and blue roses. Miss Hickey acted as maid of honor and was the only attendant to the bride.

Donald Gibbs of Day City was the best man and John Hickey, uncle of the bride, and Arnold Corbit, brother of the groom, ushered. A reception in the home of the bride's parents was held immediately after the wedding.

The couple then returned to Michigan with the groom's parents. They spent a week here, after which they left for Marcus Hook, where they will make their home.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

plans plan to go over Truman's request for war powers with a fine-tooth comb. They will grant him more powers, but only after considerable debate and a lot of nagging.

Hidden Russian Navy — It is now learned that Russia has a much larger navy than we ever suspected. The surface ships have been hidden in the Black Sea, while the subs are chiefly in the South Pacific and Baltic. The thing that worries U.S. war chiefs most is that a Russian sub might sink an American troop ship — which would be another sinking of the Maine and mean world war.

Truman's Public Relations — White House advisers admit privately that the President's public relations are extremely bad. Some people blame this on Press Secretary Charlie Ross, but those in the know realize that it is chiefly the President himself. Even after being carefully coached, he is apt to make off-the-cuff statements which have unfortunate reverberations. When he announced the Korean decision, Truman missed a great opportunity to go before the public with a fireside chat explaining the real issues. His failure to do this has led to mediocre morale on the home front and growing isolation in some quarters. He is now trying to make up for this commission.

Take Profits Out of War — Long before the President's message to congress, frightened Senator Lester Hunt of Wyoming had helped draft 56 emergency laws providing for every type of control conceivable. These were drafted by a subcommittee under Senator Hunt, and were to be rushed through congress at the drop of the first Russian bomb.

Despite this network of war controls, however, nothing has been done about the basic problem of taking the profits out of war.

For years, wise old Bernard Baruch has been urging the control of war profits. If you conscript men's lives, Baruch has argued, you must also conscript such less valuable commodities as factories, raw materials, and profits.

However, congress did not act prior to World War II, and so far there is no proposed law ready for the statute books which would conscript profits in case of World War III.

During World War II, most of the nation's big corporations rolled up terrific profits.

The American Way

The words "Michigan" and "fishing" are practically synonymous at this time of the year. And after an exciting day's fishing, it's the "American Way" to enjoy a glass of cool, refreshing Michigan brewed beer to top off the day.

For beer is the kind of beverage Americans like. It belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs... Enjoy It
