

Catlett Installs Two-Way Radios in Wreckers

Catlett's Service Station, 33604 Grand River, has just installed a two-way radio system in their two modern wreckers, enabling the company to furnish faster wrecker and towing service to the residents of this area.

A transmitter has been installed at the station with radios in the two trucks. Calls can be made from the station to the trucks. In addition, the truck drivers can talk to the office or between the two wreckers.

The radio will enable the trucks to go directly from one job to another if necessary without reporting back to the station. This will be particularly valuable to residents during the winter and spring.

Squirrels Are Plenty Smart

Throughout the summer and fall squirrels are mighty busy. These provident animals obtain and store ample stocks of winter food. Then when winter comes they are ready for it!

Providential householders also prepare for winter during warm months by filling their fuel oil tanks from our presently ample stocks. This in turn, permits our bulk station to maintain a full supply of oil for distribution later.

To insure oil heat all winter it is necessary to keep a balance between the oil supply and the season's demand — therefore it is vital that your tanks and ours be kept full at all times.
