Bible Comment:

Bible Gives History Of Israel, a Lesson For Modern Nations

The first king of the kingdom of Israel was Saul, who set his head and shoulders above his people. There are conflicting accounts on Saul. In one he is called "God's anointed" but in others, namely 1 Samuel 10:19, Samuel charges that the people's demand for a king is a rejection of God.
 Light is thrown on Samuel's words by what happened a little later, when the people rebelled against the oppression of Solomon. Civil war rent the kingdom in twain, never to be reunited.
 Why so much interest in the political history of an ancient people in a country no larger than one of the smaller American states?

The answer is, of course, that the record is part of the Bible. There is nowhere else in all literature a record that in so small a compass sets forward with such clearness the incidents and causes in the rise and fall of nations and the conditions which make for public welfare.
 Moreover it is in the life of a comparatively primitive people emerging into statehood on a comparatively small scale that we can observe more clearly and accurately, than in modern society, the forces and laws that are at work and that have their effect on welfare or disaster.
 We can see and study in the kingdom of Israel, and in all the comparative small states, the precise elements that make for welfare or disaster today, obscured though they may be by all the accretions of modern life that have multiplied our problems. We can do this without altering the basic and essential conditions of their solution.

By GENE ALLEMAN

Economy at Lansing is the watchword these days.
 Yet the state legislature finds itself doing some contradictory things.
 They illustrate the predicament of Republican law-makers who are trying hard to find a solution to the state's accumulating $100 million deficit and yet, at the same time, to modernize services rendered by state government. When the record is examined carefully, some embarrassing results are found.

Newspaper headlines have featured the economy status of Republican legislators who threaten to deny deficiency appropriations to cover cost-of-living pay boosts granted to state employees by the state civil service commission. If this policy is enforced, there would be fewer state employees and perhaps payless paydays or unpaid vacations at Lansing. We suspect that many voters would like to see this economy put to a test, especially when the legislature is asking local governments to economize by getting along with less state aid.

KREMLIN FILIERS
 It isn't pleasant to contemplate, but the inescapable fact is that Russia is not only producing us in planes, but is building up a reservoir of battle-tested pilots to fly them. The blunt fact is that the Kremlin is using Korea as a graduate school to train Russian pilots how to fly against American airplanes.

"Classes" of Russian pilots have been manning the MIG's over Korea (and learning American combat techniques first hand. The present class showed up in Korea on November 1, and it now about ready to graduate. Each class takes the same prescribed course. The first month is spent making navigational flights across Korea. The second month is spent observing American formations, at a safe distance. During this period, the MIG's will occasionally make a pass at a bomber formation, but it is all in practice. They never fire a shot. The MIG's also take care to keep out of the way of air force F-86 Sabrejets during the break-in period.

By the third month, however, the Soviet student-pilots begin to tangle with American fighters—preferably with slower F-80 Shooting Stars and F-84 Thunderbolts. As the Russians gain experience, they mix it up with our crack F-80 squad.

The result is that the green Russians are shot out of the skies at the rate of 12 to our one. But the survivors become tough, skillful pilots, baptized by fire and able to hold their own against our best.

Note—in contrast, we send only our crack pilots to Korea, give our new pilots no battle training. Reason: that we are so short of F-86's that we cannot risk letting greenhorns fly them in combat.

MESSAGING MOSCOW
 A lot of schools all over the country are taking advantage of the arrangement whereby the school children of America can broadcast via the Voice of America to school children behind the Iron Curtain.

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO (March 17, 1927)
 To Add Roads
 Approximately 80 miles of new roads will be added to the network connecting Detroit to and through Oakland County, according to a report prepared by L. V. Balknap, county engineer for the Greater Pontiac Association. Need for the roads rises out of the subdividing of lake and rural property and a increased travel of cars through the county caused by the influx of people to the area, Balknap reported.

Debaters Meet Roosevelt
 Farmington High School debaters met Roosevelt March 13 at 7:15 in the Community Hall for their most severe test along the road in conquest of the State High School debating championship. Judges for the contest will be Superintendent Vape of Wayne, Superintendent Page of Howell and Superintendent Popper of Detroit. Each is a man of wide experience in judging debates.

Attend Caucus
 Two hundred and fifty voters attended the Republican caucus for Farmington Township in the Board School at Orchard Lake and Twelve Mile Saturday night. Persons at the caucus selected township candidates to run for office in the coming election.

TEN YEARS AGO (March 10, 1942)
 Plan Defense Rally
 Farmington's second defense rally to be held Tuesday, March 24, in the Farmington High School gym, it was announced Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of the Farmington Civilian Defense Council. Dr. Harry Waha, member of the Metropolitan Defense Speakers Staff, will give the main address. The topic will be "Your Land and My Land." At present, Waha is registered air raid warden in the City of Detroit and will have much to say concerning the individuals' problems in the war effort.

Trotters To Play
 The Harlem Globe Trotters, world basket ball champions in 1939 and 1940 and winners of 97 consecutive games this year, will play a Wayne Recreation League All-Star team in the Farmington High school gymnasium Monday, March 23, starting at 8:30 p.m. Players from Farmington, Plymouth, Romulus and Wayne will make up the all-star squad. Former college and high school stars composing the team include Howard Smith, Robert Chapman, Elmer Catterman and Ed Maas of Farmington.

FIVE YEARS AGO (March 20, 1947)
 Reaches Hat Way Mark
 Howard C. Kniekerbocker, chairman of the 1947 Farmington Red Cross Drive, announced Wednesday that a total of $1,600 had been raised in the first two weeks of the campaign. It is approximately half of the total quota set for the Farmington area, Kniekerbocker stated. There are still two weeks to go. Farmington's 1947 quota for the American Red Cross is $2,500. Kniekerbocker pointed out that the $1,600 tabulated so far represents contributions actually turned over to the chairman.

Trojans, Falcons Bow
 Both the Farmington and Clarenceville High School teams bowed out in the first round of the Michigan High School Athletic Association Regional Basketball Tournament last week. Walled Lake defeated the Falcons 29 to 27 in first round play of Class "B" at Pontiac while Lake Orion, playing in its home floor, swamped Clarenceville 57 to 17.

AMERICAN BANKING IN ACTION

REWARD FOR EXTRA EFFORT

In some countries, people are forced to produce under the threat of punishment, imprisonment or death. How different it is in America! Here workers receive extra rewards for greater effort. Extra rewards which they can spend or save, as they choose. And those who save are free to choose where they will put their money — in a bank, in government bonds or in new enterprises. Let's keep the American way.
