

Speech Institute Set For MSC This Summer

The fourth annual Michigan High School Speech Institute will be held at Michigan State College June 30 - July 25. About 25 students are expected to attend.

The program calls for four weeks of training in forensics, radio, and dramatics.

Marguerite Fleming, director of radio station KLSH of St. Louis, Missouri, will head the radio work. Gwendolyn Free, assistant professor of speech at Western Michigan College of Education, will direct the dramatics group and Dr. Owen Peterson, University of Iowa, will be in charge of the forensics division.

THE MICHIGAN MIRROR

By GENE ALLEMAN

$1,021,000 are dead dodges. That is unless, of course, they can be revised to meet Williams' objections.

The governor has asked that from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000 be appropriated to repair the riot damage at Jackson prison. And he wants more cash to hire more prison guards.

This doesn't include, of course, the expected request for money to expand the state police, which the governor says has been below the margin of safety for years.

Now add up these little problems and you will find one gigantic headache for Michigan Republicans: How to keep their tax program and still raise money for the articles the people turn well will insist on. The Jackson affair has acquired too much publicity and is obviously too serious a situation to pass off.

But the present budget won't allow for it without adding more to the deficit. If Republicans don't raise the money their reputations are at stake — to say nothing of their votes. If they do raise the money Williams will veto the bill.

Political volley ball of the season, of course, is the Jackson riot. Two days it was the biggest story in the nation, four days top in the state and it still merits page one space whenever one of the myriads of investigators opens his mouth. The Republicans say Williams old out the state, Democrats declare just as firmly that the negatively G. O. P. legislature refused to allot funds for proper maintenance.

Probably both sides have points, but this coming election is going to be so covered with such screening issues the real points will never reach the sunlight.

It'll take a discerning voter to penetrate the smoke and dig out the real battlelines — which, incidentally, neither side has made quite clear to expert observers yet — except for corporation and non-corporation tax land mines.

It makes each drop of gas say uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine. But the problem is to put that energy to work. So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-piston — gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power.

This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future."

It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high-compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name.

And it puts extra power under the hood — and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank.

Now, power is great, but what goes with it? Mister, that's something you ought to find out — and soon.

What goes with it is an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat.

It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do — true and sure in its course on a straightaway — beautifully balanced on curves.

It's a car with Dynaflow Drive* to feed power with infinite smoothness — and a road-hugging levelness of ride that took a million in cold cash to perfect.

And it is, with all this, a very tidy bargain. Why not price it, drive it, know it for yourself? We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration.
