

LOCAL DENTISTS and their wives are in rehearsal now for "Return Engagement," a musical benefit set for April 28 and May 2, 3 and 5 in Southfield High School. Dr. Michael Blume (left) of Farmington, takes the part of a train announcer in one of the show's production numbers. Leading the chorus line, making like a train, is Mrs. Burton Stillman, of West Bloomfield, followed by Mrs. Sheldon Wainick of Southfield, and Dr. Clifford Heller, of Farmington. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Dentists Stage Comedy

Eighty-three Detroit and suburban dentists have taken to the boards these days, working out in rehearsals three times a week toward the April opening of "Return Engagement." They are backed up by another 16 dentists building sets and still others who are busy designing and supervising costume making. All members of Alpha Omega dental fraternity, "Return Engagement" is the second musical comedy the group will produce. The proceeds are earmarked for the Alpha Omega Foundation; student aid at the University of Detroit and University of Michigan; Detroit Dental Aid; to help displaced Russian dentists in Israel, for the D.J. Healy Home and local dental charities. The show is scheduled at Southfield High School on April 28, May 2-3. Curtain time is 8:20 p.m. for all performances. The original script tells the

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Look of Garden City announce the engagement of their daughter, Sheila A., to Jack M. Priebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Priebe of Wyandotte. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Garden City High School and plans to study nursing at Mercy College. Her fiance graduated from Theodore Roosevelt High School in Wyandotte in 1970 and is employed as a crane operator by McClouth Steel. The couple plans to marry July 14 in St. Dunstan Catholic Church in Garden City.

Mt. Carmel Volunteers Need Help

The League of Mt. Carmel Hospital and Medical Center, 6071 W. Outer Drive, at Schaefer, Detroit, is looking for volunteers. Women are needed to take carts of gifts and toilet articles throughout the hospital and to help entertain children by reading to them and teaching them arts and crafts. Volunteers also help at the information desk and in the pediatric rehabilitation department. They work in the gift shop and on medical records. Interested persons should write, giving their telephone number, to Mt. Carmel Guild, Attn. Mrs. Marie Fettes, 6071 W. Outer Drive, Detroit, 48235. Volunteers are required to become members of the guild. Prospective members are interviewed, and members must pay dues. The guild holds meetings and parties throughout the year.

Course Set

The Center for the Continuing Education of Women and the Reading Improvement Service of the University of Michigan will offer a reading and study skills series for adult women students this spring. The four sessions, May 16-June 16, will emphasize techniques for reading and studying more efficiently. It is designed for women who are planning to return to school. Classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30, Wednesday evenings. There is a $6 fee and enrollment is limited. To register, contact the CEW, 330 Thompson, Ann Arbor.
