islands delegates to participate despite their firm refusal to sign on the dotted line.

Whether Michigan jumped from Kefauver to Stevenson early enough is something for which no stopper has ever been invented. Whether the fire Moody aroused among several of his Southern Senatorial colleagues will continue to smolder is not apparent now. Whether the Stevenson-Sparkman combination represents, as many observers believe, a victory of "conservative" Democrats over the "liberal" headed Humphrey of Minnesota, is a matter of personal opinion.

Answers to those questions may determine the influence the Michigan vote will have in and after the campaign.

But there's no question that their names are familiar in and out of Democratic circles.

And there's no question about the importance of the decision Michigan voters must make in November.

Michigan business is contributing to a campaign which will launch this fall to bring new industry into the state. The Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan spent a year in analyzing opinions of Michigan manufacturers on the assets and liabilities of the state as a location for industry as a basis for the drive.

Dixie's drawing industry from the Northern states. But there's going to be another war between the Blue and the Gray, this one fought out on sales talks to affected industry. The Notheusers will use three big weapons: Privately-financed development corporations to augment work done by state agencies such as the Michigan Department of Economic Development. More intensive promotion, including greater efforts to develop industry from within. A new atmosphere of cooperation with industry in many Northern industrial centers.

Defeat of the proposed 2% industrial processing tax in the closing days of the Legislature in June removed a threat that might have kept many an industry from

Meteors To Reach Peak Here August 10 Or 11

With many parts of the nation already seeing strange objects in the skies it's wise to report now that August will bring with it the annual shower of meteors.

Hazel M. Loeb, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, reports that the Perseid shower of meteors will reach its peak around the evening of August 10 or 11.

"The flashes of light from these shooting stars may be seen in any direction of the sky during the peak period," she points out. "But when you trace back their paths, the meteors seem to follow trails that intersect in the northeastern part of the sky where the constellation Perseus rises about 10 p.m. This fact has accounted for the name of this annual display."

Danger lurks everywhere during hawking season. Safety pays off even greater in seasons where manpower is so important.

coming into Michigan or expanding facilities already here.

Over 10,000 Michigan residents are scanning the skies for alien aircraft but a minimum of 25,000 are needed to keep up an efficient 24-hour watch. Less than 200 observation posts are manned around the clock.

Summer gives Russia many advantages for launching long-range bomber attacks.

Michigan Civil Defense leaders aren't hollering "Volts!" But neither are they overlooking obvious strategic advantages that the men of the Kremlin know as well as we do.

Probably the most active parade participant in Michigan this Summer is the colorful float used by all branches of the state's dairy industry. It shows a golden cow grazing in a mound of brilliant green grass and there is an ornate throne on which the community's fairest lass sits.

It was built by the June Dairy Month Committee of the American Dairy Association of Michigan and has already been seen by scores of thousands.

CITY OFFICIALS INVITED TO YOUR MENTAL HOSPITAL

Resources at Northville State Hospital for treatment, for teaching patients with emotional disorders to use their illness for growth, for promoting mental health in the community will be shown to officials most concerned with the welfare of their constituents.

Invitations have been issued to Mayor Kenneth R. Loomis and Police Chief Joseph DeVriendt to tour the hospital buildings on Wednesday, August 13, at 8 p.m. Following this survey, the guests will have dinner in the dining room used by patients and employees. Opportunity will be provided to ask questions and to make suggestions for integrating services of the hospital for the maximum benefit of all.

The buildings now in use and under construction are the result of active interest, forward thinking and progressive legislation in Michigan. They serve as a modern setting for the most enlightened treatment of the mentally ill. They are a source of progressive education of professional groups and job satisfaction for employees. Advantages resulting from the functioning of this institution have broad influences.

Also included in the group are dignitaries from Livonia, Northville, Plymouth, South Lyon, Salem, Westland, Wayne County, Garden City and Inkster.

Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent, and the hospital staff will be hosts at the reception.

SEVEN PERSONS PAY JUSTICE COURT FINES

Seven persons paid driving violation fines and court costs in the court of Justice of the Peace John J. Schulte last week.

Frank Sundria of 29500 Midway in Farmington paid $15 for not having a license for his motorcycle and operating it without license. Glen Burton of 77 1/2 Street, River Rouge, paid $50 on charges of driving to the right of traffic, speeding and not having a registration certificate on his person. Charles L. Hall of 2701 Elmhurst, Pontiac, paid $10 on a charge of not having a license plate.

Speeding violations brought fines of $15 to Charles J. Roberts of 1224 W. Maple, Milford; $20 to David Kish of 7720 Lawton, Detroit; and $40 to John Fred Raub of Marquette, Michigan. Everett S. Stephens of 21195 Inkster paid $5 for parking in a no-parking zone and Thomas Goers of 22141 Springbrook paid $10 for passing on the shoulder.

Good pasture, properly managed, will lower the amount of protein supplement consumed by hogs as much as 50 per cent.

High Water Maroons Coast Guard Station

High water over a portion of the single access road has marooned the Coast Guard station north of Ludington state park. The road is under about a foot of Lake Michigan, the conservation department reports.

High water at the park also has forced closing of a portion of one plena area and has caused considerable loss to the beach because of erosion.

The conservation department maintains the Coast Guard road, which runs through park land.
