Springbrook Scenes

By MRS. HOWARD LEGG

Three year old Anthony Cicco seemed drooping Sunday due to the quick thinking of his five year old sister. The boy was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKay with his parents when he fell into an open drainage hole filled with water. His little sister ran screaming for their father, who had to pull him out by the hair as he had sunk that deep, almost out of sight.

Mr. Jim Galtes from Grosse Pointe Woods was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Betttridge Sunday evening. The group enjoyed a dinner at a German restaurant and then had pie and coffee at the Betttridge home later in the evening.

Two of the local clubs started their fall meetings this week after five weeks' vacation.

Bevety's Elks Club of Floral entertained eleven members of their club on Tuesday evening for their first meeting. Mrs. Phyllis Westbrock, Mrs. Lenora Merritt, and Mrs. Betty Wright were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Barbara Fairbanks was honored Tuesday evening at a pink and blue shower while she was in town. The shower was at the home of Mrs. Elliott for the baby, a son, arrived a short time ago.

The Springbrook Drive Bunco Club had their Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Marion Gilmore with eight of the neighborhood ladies attending their regular monthly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Harrison, formerly of Truck Road, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Legg on Wednesday. While they were here, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison paid short calls on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Betttridge, Mr. and Mrs. John Bedson, Mrs. Pauline Webber, Mr. and Mrs. McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Legg.

Mrs. Roy Johnson of Tulane entertained her friends on Friday at a copper demonstration at which she received a beautiful gift in copper.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hill is staying at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mildred White, to aid in the care of her children until she returns from the home of Mrs. White live on the East Side of Detroit.

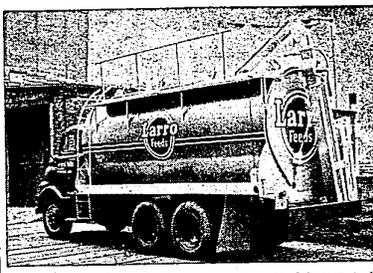

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnston and family, who own their home on Springbrook but are now living at Hartley Beach, spent the week end visiting here. They stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKay, Mrs. Johnson's parents.

Mrs. Carol McKay spent a week visiting her mother, Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, in Saginaw.

Plan New Delivery System in Area

Larro Feeds will soon be delivered to farms in area much like the city dweller gets oil for his furnace. Leo Gildemeister of Farmington Mills announced this week.

The special type of delivery of Larro formula feeds by bulk truck will be available in the near future. This new bulk delivery service will give farmers in this area an easier, faster and money-saving method of handling Larro Feeds on their farms. This special bulk feed service can be used profitably by the small feeder as well as the large feeder.

Mr. Gildemeister states that bulk delivery of feeds is a revolutionary concept which has swept the country in recent years. Instead of receiving feed in sacks, farmers now order a portion or full truck load of bulk feed which is unloaded by conveyor directly into bins on the farm.

According to Mr. Gildemeister there are many advantages to feeders in buying feed in bulk, such as:

1. Eliminates handling and selling of feed sacks. Bulk feed eliminates the lifting of heavy sacks and permits feed carts or wagons to be loaded easily by gravity flow from bulk bins.
  2. Bulk feed eliminates feed waste.
  3. Bulk feed saves labor. Some feeders have been able to cut labor in half.
  4. Bulk feed is delivered right into farmers' overhead or self-feeder bins and is all stored and ready to feed.
  5. Special bulk bins built by the Larro Feeds plant at reasonable cost eliminate rat and mice problems in storage.
  6. Bulk feeding decreases the cost of feed. The dollars saved from the cost of feedings in time and labor, will soon pay for any special bins the farmer builds or buys.
- Vehicles used in delivery bulk feed appear similar to bulk milk trucks. These are divided into three compartments, permitting farmers to take delivery of more than one type of feed per load.
- This special bulk service is most practical for farmers who can use three tons or more of feed at a time. Bulk delivery means a saving in money, time and labor.

CLEAR CONFUSION ABOUT SHOOTING OF FEMALE DEER

"There ain't no such animal" as a doe permit, the conservation department reports.

Letters arriving in the Lansing office indicate some persons are confused about the season on does.

Game specialists point out that in the northern lower peninsula, only the M-20, the regular hunting season on bucks will be in effect, November 15 - 30, and that during the final three days of that season, November 28, 29 and 30, any deer may be taken by any licensed hunter who has not killed a deer up to that time.

Upper peninsula regulations remain as they were last year, one buck only from November 15 - 30.

Throughout the southern lower peninsula, one buck only may be taken from November 15 to 30, using a shotgun or .25 caliber rifle. High powered rifles will be allowed. This regulation is the same as last year. No fawn or does may be shot in the southern one-third of the state during the final three days.

However, hunters may take any deer during the special Allegan County season, December 1 - 7, but persons wishing to participate in this season must obtain special permits from the department.

Green Manures Aid Soil, Stop Erosion Losses

Value of good grass-legume rotation mixtures for soil improvement often is overlooked because they do not bring immediate returns, reports Leonard J. Brames, Michigan State College extension soil conservationist.

They are the key, however, to most soil conservation practices, he advises. Sod crops add home grown organic matter as well as nitrogen, reduce erosion losses, improve soil structure, increase water intake and increase soil productivity, the specialist points out.

Si makes its own hell, and goodness its own heaven.
