It's Our Opinion

Cleaning House . . .

twice a year is not enough for the average housewife, she is at it almost continually throughout the year. So it should be as far as the township is concerned.

Next month the township will hold its semi-annual clean-up of rubbish and debris. The sides of the roadways will be piled with the cast-outs that have been accumulating since last spring. Naturally these clean-ups are helpful and very necessary, but we have grown beyond the twice a year clean-up stage.

Either more rubbish pick-ups should be established or a dumping area should be set aside for the convenience of township residents. Probably the latter plan would be more practical at the present time, although the more frequent pick-ups will probably have to be set up in the near future. These suggestions are being mentioned more and more often by township residents as the area continues to develop.

If a public dumping area is to be provided it should be done now while property away from concentrated areas is still available. It should be established on property that needs filling and should be periodically covered with dirt to keep it from becoming an eyesore. This type of a service is being provided in a great majority of the communities, not only in this area but throughout the state. It would, we believe, help to cut down the dumping along roadways and on private property.

Such a service is urgently needed now, if we are to keep our ever-growing house clean and presentable all through the year!

Every Four Years . . .

it happens and sometimes more often, but the American public take it for what it is worth, which is just about nothing.

We are referring to the blasts let forth by Governor Adlai Stevenson and Harry Truman last week criticizing the press of the Nation. Stevenson called American newspapers a "one-party press" although he admitted that they had been pretty fair to him as far as news coverage was concerned. President Truman added an "amen" to Stevenson's reference to the "one-party press" business, and made a few other choice remarks, which everyone has heard before.

The press, large and small, makes a good whipping boy for politicians because they know that what they say will make headlines and that means votes. One thing that apparently Mr. Truman has never wanted to realize, or Mr. Stevenson either, is that there is a difference between editorial comment and news coverage. Newspapers are more like machines or political parties, although some would like to have them that way, and in some nations they are — or else they go. Newspapers in America are individual organizations. They have a two-fold purpose, one to keep their readers informed of the happenings throughout the world and in their communities, and second to speak out courageously according to their own convictions and to afford others an opportunity to do likewise.

In most of the Nation's newspapers, comments sent in by readers consume as much, if not more, space than the paper's own editorial columns. Factual news stories plus complete texts of the major candidates' speeches appear regularly in the newspapers. Yet we have a "one-party press".

As far as the administration is concerned, it isn't the "one-party" idea that is so bad, it just happens to be the wrong party.

Are You Registered . . .

is a question that is ringing across this nation from one end to the other and it is being answered with an ever-increasing "YES!"

Have you added your voice to the millions? If you haven't, there is still time! Nothing in this year of 1952 is more important to you as an individual American. The greatest danger to our entire democratic system is lack of responsibility. Our strength, our very survival, depends upon majority action, yet too often a minority has set our course. We, as Americans, were entrusted with certain rights and privileges, enjoyed by very few people on this earth. They were entrusted to us, not given to us . . . we must protect them and put them to practical use if we are to fulfill our obligation.

If you aren't already registered . . . do it before 8:00 p.m. Monday, October 6 . . . and vote on November 4. Be a 100% American!

Clean Campaign--

THE WASHINGTON

MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

(Note: Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation. The Washington Merry-Go-Round is written this week by Senator Blair Moody, Democrat of Michigan.)

TELEVISION DEBATES
The best way for the American people to get the full, unvarnished picture of the real issues of the presidential campaign, in my judgment, would be a series of debates on television and radio between Governor Stevenson and General Eisenhower.

This modern innovation would give the voters an opportunity to decide directly which candidate would provide the country with more competent leadership in this moment of history when our future is so dangerously at stake.

It would offer a universal education on the problems of our nation and the world, never before approached.

It would draw the issues between the parties on the level of fact, not smear.

It would give the people a chance to "know" their next president — his personality, his intellect, and his grasp of public affairs.

It would provide both candidates an equal chance at what doubtless would be the largest audience of all time, without forcing either to raise huge sums of money for the privilege of presenting their views to the people.

And it would knock the ex parte bunk out of the campaign at the very top level.

HIGH-LEVEL CAMPAIGN
If the famous general from Kansas is matched with the great statesman from Illinois for an hour each week, perhaps from mid-September through October, the people will make the right decision November 4, and a new, bright pattern will have been set for the future functioning of our democracy.

This suggestion was advanced by the writer on People's Platform, a radio discussion with Senator Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, on July 2, the day after the Democratic National Convention.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By GENE ALLEMAN

Boom time is returning again to Michigan's Copper Country at the edge of the Porcupine Mountain State Park near Ontonagon.

We've just visited Keweenaw Island and drove over to examine Ontonagon — revived White Pine mine.

It was our first trip into Keweenaw since V-J Day in 1945. Then we traveled by the chugging Copper Queen boat from Copper Harbor to Isle Royal national park in company with Dave Wilcox of the state conservation department.

Moments of that jaunt still linger. It was good to see this scenic bit of Michigan wonderland again.

Copper boom at the White Pine mine, formerly operated by Calumet and Hecla, involves a new process just perfected by the Copper Range Mining company at a cost of many millions and over a period of several years.

Back at the turn of the century Ontonagon County was the scene of 1,000 men working in a galaxy of mines. There were the Minnesota, Michigan, Rockland, Victoria, National, Nonesuch, Carp Lake (Porcupine Mountain), Norwick, Mass. Adventure and the White Pine mine.

The White Pine was opened in 1881 and was closed a new year later. Calumet and Hecla Michigan's biggest copper enterprise, took an option and finally started operations in 1914.

About 15 million pounds of the red metal were produced between 1914 and 1921. This was a relative low grade of copper ore, the highest average yield being 24.76 pounds to the ton of rock.

At a public sale held in Ontonagon in January, 1929, White Pine holdings were picked up by the Copper Range Mining company. The purchase price was $119,000 just enough to pay off $116,000 in bills.

After years of experimenting with methods to extract copper profitably from the White Pine type of low grade rock, Copper Range applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan. Diamond drill cores were submitted to RFC engineers as proof of mining potentials. RFS offered $100 millions on the basis of the ore findings, together with a study of the Copper Range research methods.

The final agreement was $57 millions at 5% from the federal government, while the Copper Range company was to put up $13 millions of their own money.

Copper Range is reported to be confident that the White Pine will turn out to be a bonanza. The chalcocite rock can be mined in much the manner as coal at lower cost than the traditional methods employed in following veins of native copper down deep into the earth. The old Nonesuch mine and much of the Porcupine Mountain State Park have the same potentials. Calumet and Hecla of (Continued on Page Five)
