Michigan's peach crop is a good se and homemakers should take one and homemakers should take advantage of the situation, according to Roberta Hershey, Michigan State College foods and nutrition extension specialist. Miss Hershey gives some tips on peach use. For easy peeling she suggests dipping well-washed peaches in boiling water for just one minute no more — and then immediately loto cold water. If you are canning peaches you will be interested in knowing that it is important to wash them before diportant to wash them before dip canning peaches you will be interested in knowing that it is important to wash them before dipping into the hot water to wash off some of the spoilage bacteria.

Miss Hersbey says that after the hoff the skins. It you don't have been beling water dip it is easy to pile peached halves a gallon of water, you have been a gallon of water, whether it's beef, pork or canned luncheon loaf? Place peaches in a shallow pan, pour just a little honey or brown sugar and a weel bit of fat over them and slide the pan under the broiler until they are delicately browned.

Here is another idea suggested by the, home economist. Put a generous spoonful of cottage-cheese between two halves of peaches and they have been a gallon of the peach in water and have been a gallon of the peach in water and have been a gallon of the same they be they have been a gallon of the same they be they have been they have been they have been a gallon of the peach flavor, and Miss Hersberg have been a gallon of the peach flavor, and Miss Hersberg have been a gallon of the peach flavor, and Miss Hersberg have been a gallon of the peach flavor, and
