KNOW YOUR CANDIDATES

CLARK J. ADAMS

Chief Justice Clark J. Adams is the only incumbent member of the State Supreme Court who will appear on the non-partisan ballot at the November election.

Justice Adams was appointed by Governor G. Mennen Williams to fill the vacancy created by the death of Chief Justice Walter North.

The Chief Justice is a native of Oakland County, and a graduate of the University of Michigan law school. He lives with his wife and daughter on the same Waterford Township farm on which he was born in 1904.

Chief Justice Adams has served the people of Michigan in all three branches of the state government — legislative, executive and judicial.

He served as a Legislator from the Second District of Oakland County for eight years. From 1949 to 1952 he served as an Assistant Attorney General assigned as legal advisor to Governor Williams. Now he has entered the judicial branch as the youngest Justice of the State Supreme Court.

CHARLES H. KING

Charles H. King, Dean of the Detroit College of Law and a practicing attorney since 1933, is the Republican nominee for Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court on the November 4 non-partisan ballot. King will run to fill out the unexpired term of the late Justice Walter H. North.

King, who has been on the faculty of the Detroit College of Law for 15 years and Dean for the past eight years, has a wide reputation as a legal scholar and a practical attorney. His analysis of current legal problems have appeared frequently in state and national professional publications. In 1946 one entire issue of the Michigan State Bar Journal was devoted to an article by King for the benefit of returning lawyer-veterans, outlining developments in Michigan law during World War II.

King is president of the Michigan Law Institute, an agency of the Michigan Bar Association which offers post-graduate education to practicing attorneys throughout the state. He serves on several committees of the Detroit and Michigan Bar associations, and is a member of the American Bar Association, the American Law Institute, and the American Judicature Society.

King, 46, makes his home in Highland Park, is married and has one son. He is a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology, holds a Bachelor of Laws degree from the Detroit College of Law and a Master of Laws degree from the University of Michigan.

JOHN W. CONNOLLY,

John W. Connolly, 41, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, served two years in that position in 1949-50. He is the Democratic son of a pioneer and traditionally Democratic family in Detroit.

Born on the Fourth of July, Connolly graduated from the University of Detroit High School in 1929 and received his college and law degrees from Georgetown University in 1937.

He served with distinction in World War II as a U. S. Navy pilot for four years, two of which were on combat missions in the Pacific theater. He holds a pilot license for unlimited tonnage.

Connolly lives with his mother in Detroit at 8120 East Jefferson. He is a partner in the law firm of Connolly, Moynihan, and Connolly. His late father, long-time Probate Judge William F. Connolly, was a lifetime Democratic Party stalwart.

Connolly is a member of the Michigan State Bar Association, the Detroit Bar Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, American Veterans of World War II, and the University Club of Detroit.

CLARENCE A. REID

Clarence A. Reid, veteran State Senator from Detroit, is the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor. During his ten-year Senate career he has built a reputation for sponsoring and supporting legislation designed to benefit all of Michigan.

Reid won many friends through his leadership in the battle for the automobile finance law which eliminated the gouging of used car buyers by preventing excessive rates. Michigan auto purchasers have been saved an estimated $50,000,000 a year since this law was enacted.

The candidate for Lieutenant Governor also sponsored the Northville State Hospital, Michigan's newest mental institution, and successfully proposed appropriations for the expansion of tuberculosis hospitals throughout Michigan. He has been a leader in pushing legislation to better the lot of the aged and the handicapped through increased state assistance. He was at the head of a movement to provide greater aid to dependent children.

His thorough knowledge of Michigan government and his leadership in state legislative affairs qualify Reid for positions as President of the Senate, and member of the State Administrative Board, which make up part of the important duties of the Lieutenant Governor.

Reid is an attorney and a veteran of World War I. He was graduated from the University of Michigan, where his fighting spirit on the football team earned him the nickname of 'Up-And-At-'Em'.

He is a member of the American and Detroit Bar Associations, the American Legion, and many fraternal and civic organizations.

RECORDS PAY OFF

Fourteen dairy cows averaging 500 pounds of butterfat during 1951 would have given a Michigan farmer the same return over feed costs as 55 cows producing an average of 200 pounds of butterfat. Records pay off, stresses Lawrence A. Johnson, Michigan State College dairy specialist in charge of Dairy Herd Improvement work.
