FOUR LOCAL SCOUTS ATTEND WEEK END TRAINING CAMP-OUT

Four Scouts from Troop 109, Larry Hart, Hal Hawkins, Ron Williams and Charles Snyder, took part in a leadership training camp-out the week end of November 22 and 23 at the Franklin Scout Camp near Lapeer, Mich. The Troop was asked to send four boys and an adult to take the training course and to become acquainted with Scouts from other troops in the area.

The camp-out was attended by eight other boys, four from Birmingham Troop B-7 and four from Franklin Troop B-5. Mr. R. E. Beaulieu accompanied the Franklin boys, Mr. E. B. Palmer accompanied the boys from Birmingham, and Mr. L. W. Beala accompanied the boys from Farmington. Since this was a leadership training, the boys were given a variety of outdoor activities, including hiking, map reading, and a discussion of "Breath and Reach of the Farm Bureau and What It Does". The committee met on December 3 to make plans in which every member is expected to take part.

Mrs. Homer Makle and Mrs. Emmett Houghton served cake and coffee and ice cream, which followed games played by the group. The boys had to be done by the boys in the rain. There was no electricity, gas or oil stoves in the camp.

The worship service Sunday morning was religiously attended by all Scouts and adults. It was followed by a good turn, as the boys helped push a car stuck in the mud. The owner of the car was very grateful.

They had a grand time, learned some real scouting, and got to meet Scouts from the two other troops. More of this type of experience is needed.

To Present "Messiah" At Cranbrook Church

Marilyn Mason, a nationally known organist, will be featured at the Christ Church Cranbrook presentation of Handel's "Messiah" to be given at 4:00 p.m. Sunday, December 7, by the Cranbrook Festival Chorus and Christ Church Choir under the direction of Maurice Garabrant.

Miss Mason, a faculty member of the University of Michigan music school, is ranked as one of the two leading women organ recitalists in the country. She will give a short recital before the choral performance, which she will accompany.

Vocal soloists will be Mary Louise Lindquist and Mary Jane Walker, sopranos; Marion Jewell, alto; Carl Christensen, tenor; and Syver Thingstad, bass. The public is invited to attend.

Allied Youth Program Plans New Year Dance

Teenagers who haven't made definite plans for New Year's Eve, or who don't know exactly what they would like to do, may have their problem solved if the Allied Youth of Detroit organization has its say.

The organization has solved the same problem for the youth of this area for the past twenty years. The sparkling event will be held in the three ballrooms of the Masonic Temple. Dancing to three orchestras, checking tax and fee, will be included in the admission price.

Mr. Jorgensen received the prize for a salad set done in wood. Two other Cranbrook students, Dorothy Gaymer and Stephen Polvort, were chosen to exhibit weaving and pottery, respectively.

Now studying ceramics under Malja Grottel at Cranbrook, Mrs. Jorgensen is a native of Norway and became a citizen of this country after serving four years in the United States Army. Several of her works in wood and other media were included in the official Norwegian exhibition organized in 1950 for a tour of the cities in England. After graduating from the Commercial College of Oslo in 1933, Mr. Jorgensen studied in England, France and Germany.

George A. Konkol
Funeral services for George Konkol, eleven year old Farmington Township boy, were held on Friday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. from the Thayer Funeral Home. George was killed on Monday evening, November 24, on Northway Avenue when he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle.

George Andrew Konkol was born in Detroit on April 11, 1941, the son of Andrew and Louise Konkol. He had lived with his parents on Highview Avenue in Farmington Township for the past six months and was in the fifth grade at Bond School.

Surviving besides his parents are three sisters, Betty, Carolyn and Regina, and one brother, Robert. He also leaves his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lockridge of Farmington and Mrs. Julia Konkol of Southfield Township.

Rev. Carl H. Schults officiated at the service and burial took place at Glen Eden Memorial Cemetery.

TELEPHONE MAYFAIR 63333

The West Farmington Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Houghton, 28710 Eleven Mile Road, Tuesday evening, November 25, to about 30 people present. The meeting was opened by group singing.

Plans were made to have a Christmas party on December 16 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Wadenstorer, 26570 Drake Road. In view of such plans, an entertainment and refreshment committee was appointed. When the evening was given over to discussion, Leader Fraser Hults officiated during a discussion of "Breath and Reach of the Farm Bureau and What It Does".

The committee met on December 3 to make plans in which every member is expected to take part. Mrs. Homer Makle and Mrs. Emmett Houghton served cake and coffee and ice cream, which followed games played by the group. The boys had to be done by the boys in the rain. There was no electricity, gas or oil stoves in the camp.

Fred Lee, Irvin Wik, Rogers Green, Don Olson and Rodney See left Friday evening for the last two days of gear hunting.

Dickie and Sharon Heliker stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Banfield of Wixom during the Thanksgiving vacation. Mrs. Clara Green and daughter Doris entertained at Thanksgiving dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Roger Green, Mrs. Agnes McDevitt and children and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Green and their family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cox entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox and family, Bill Cox's children and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cox at Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Higlker entertained Mr. and Mrs. Richard Banfield of Wixom, Mr. Herman Kennedy of Flint, Clara Banfield of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heliker and Edward Young at Thanksgiving day dinner.

At noon Friday Mrs. William Knapp took birthday cakes and ice cream to Bond School to the third

Ceramics Student Takes Prize For Work In Wood

Nils Jorgensen, ceramics student at Cranbrook Academy of Art, has been awarded first prize for work submitted to "Fiber, Clay and Metal", a competition for American and Canadian craftsmen sponsored by the Saint Paul Gallery, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Mr. Jorgensen received the prize for a salad set done in wood. Two other Cranbrook students, Dorothy Gaymer and Stephen Polvort, were chosen to exhibit weaving and pottery, respectively.

LUMBER TO BUILD

Lumber supplies will be adequate for farm building in 1953 and most prices will be about the same, forecast Michigan State College economists. Prices will be higher in the better grades of lumber.

U. S. railroads purchased more than $277 million worth of coal last year.
