CONSUMERS POWER WILL EXPAND GAS SERVICE IN COUNTY

More than $5,700,000 will be invested in its Southeast Division in 1953 by Consumers Power Company to expand natural gas service, Division Manager David L. Brown announced.

Major gas projects as outlined by Mr. Brown reveal the company anticipates adding more than 10,000 new gas customers in the division this year.

The Southeast Division serves Farmington, Wayne, Livingston, Plymouth and Northville together with Royal Oak, Birmingham, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens, East Detroit and many smaller communities in the Western Wayne - Oakland - Macomb County areas.

Mr. Brown said that the company will install more than 75 miles of new gas mains to reach the anticipated new customers, and that it will institute system improvements to more than 130 miles of existing mains. In addition, seven new gas regulator stations will be installed in the gas supply lines to help maintain delivery pressures in the expanded gas distribution system.

"We will continue our program of gas service improvements among our present customers," he said.

He said extensive improvements will be made to gas distribution facilities in the Plymouth - Northville area.

In the south Oakland District regulator stations will be constructed at Greenfield near Nine Mile and on Ten Mile near Campbell Road.

Mr. Brown said Southeast Division projects are part of Consumers Power Company's general expansion and improvement program for 1953 in which the company will invest more than $58,000,000 in gas and electric projects in its 63 county outstate Michigan service area.
