LARRY TOTH JOINS PLYMOUTH GROUP IN FIFTH SEASON

Larry Toth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Toth, is the most recent addition to the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. In his senior year at Redford Union High School, Larry is now studying violin under John J. Gajec, the new string instrument teacher of the school. He is the son of members of the Toth family, now at St. Cecilia's Conservatory in Rome, Italy.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra is presenting the second concert of the fifth season at the Redford Union High School where it is sponsored by the Redford Township Symphony Society. The society is composed of a number of Parent Teacher Associations and Mothers' Clubs in the township.

Mr. Gajec has announced a further community participation in the presentation of the shows of 150 people representing various schools in the township. They will sing one a cappella arrangement of a Negro spiritual and two numbers with special orchestrated accompaniments.

The concert, which is called a Family Concert by Wayne Dunlap, director of the orchestra, will include musical selections of a popular vein: "William Tell Overture" by Rossini; "Adagio for Strings" by Barber; "Concerto for Trumpet" by Hendriksen; "Walzer" by Strauss; "Saxophone Concerto" by Creston; "Pee Wee the Piccolo" by Kleinsinger; and concluding with Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever".

STATE ANNOUNCES FERRIES OPERATING EVERY TWO HOURS

The Michigan State Ferry service between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace is now operating on a two-hour winter schedule, Highways Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

This is the first time the State ferries have operated on a two-hour schedule during the winter season. The previous winter schedule departures have been three hours apart. This year, however, in an effort to give the public the best possible service, Commissioner Ziegler decided to put the two-hour schedule into effect for the winter months, lasting until sometime in April, depending on ice conditions.

This new schedule has been made possible by the fact that the Department's new ice-breaker, the "Ferry," the Valentine, is faster ship than the icebreaker "Sainte Marie," which the department has leased in past years for winter operations, and the new State Ferry docks at St. Ignace have reduced the round trip distance between the two Straits ports by some three miles, both factors helping to cut considerable time off the round trip across the Straits.

I have been studying some of the reports that are being made on the tax situation in Michigan. So far two significant statements can be quoted. The first is from "Michigan Tax Survey 1952" made by a committee of State Senator George Higgins of Ferndale is chairman. A quotation from page 141:

"The State of Michigan has so widely distributed the responsibility for taxation from the power to spend, as to be wasteful of much of the tax money collected from the people of the State."

The diversion of State tax collections to local government has been carried so far that it often tends to destroy the local sense of responsibility at the same time that it has impaired the State government's capacity to pay its own way.

It is none too soon to institute a moderate policy of recapturing for State use a reasonable part of State tax collections which this State has been diverting to local government far beyond the need or the practice in comparable states."

Another quotation is that made by The Detroit Board of Commerce in its magazine, dated January 1952, and which is:

"The 44.77% distribution of the sales tax revenue to school districts is not restricted by constitutional amendment and the formula may be changed by the state legislature. It is expected that the study of the Citizens Advisory Committee will show that, if properly directed, the distribution of school funds in 44.77% of the state in support Michigan's school districts, including Detroit schools, without additional taxation."

The two foregoing statements should be kept in mind when reading discussions coming out of Lansing on the question of increasing taxes.

SOUTHFIELD CHURCH PLANS TO FEATURE NOTED GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois, will present a concert of sacred music at 11:15 a.m. Sunday, February 1, at the Southfield Community Presbyterian Church, 21122 Indian Road, according to Rev. H. Raymond Bayne, the pastor.

Under the direction of Migran Boltman Mackenzie, the choir, making a tour of eastern United States, will present a program of religious classics, both ancient and modern, as well as modern arrangements of familiar hymns.

Rev. Bayne has been highly acclaimed for his fine rendition of traditional sacred music.

In the evening service at 7:30 p.m. the church will have a Birth-day Service to celebrate the "new birth," or conversion to Christ, of all those "born again" during the past year.

On February 8, the church will be host to a community sing-a-long at 9:15 p.m., following the evening service.

Any fuel can be burned smokelessly with properly designed equipment and good operation.

Dean Anthony Begins Retirement July 1

E. L. Anthony, dean of the School of Agriculture at Michigan State College, will pass 41 years of agricultural college teaching and administration this month.

July 1, announcement has been made that, effective this date, he will go on a one-year retirement furlough, with his retirement to become active a year later.

Well known to Michigan farmers, Dean Anthony has been in charge of teaching, research and extension programs in agriculture at Michigan State since 1932 more than 20 years. In 1932, 20 years ago, when he taught at the Michigan State College, he had like the University of West Virginia and headed the dairy department at Michigan State.

His leadership in Michigan State's program of international relationships, in giving technical assistance to agriculture in Colombia, India, Okinawa, and other localities, has been widely recognized in the Michigan State and The University of Missouri, where Dean Anthony graduated in 1912, granted him an honorary Doctor of Science degree last spring.
