

DAY OF PRAYER SERVICES SET FOR THIS FRIDAY

Christians worshippers in the Farmington area have completed plans for two separate services in observance of the World Day of Prayer to be held on Friday, February 20.

Farmington Mayor Kenn Loomis has issued a special proclamation commemorating the day.

Several Farmington churches are cooperating in the presentation of a joint service at the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. J. B. Gulian, pastor of the Farmington Trinity Episcopal Church, will discuss "The Mission of The Church" at this service.

Other Farmington area churches will offer a joint service at the Farmington Baptist Church and will feature Rev. Elsie Johns as special speaker. This program will be centered about the theme "We Kneel To Conquer". Both programs will begin at 1:00 p.m.

PLAN MEETING

The Farmington Girl Scout District Association will hold its next meeting on Monday, February 23, at 8:00 p.m. If you are interested in Senior Girl Scout classes, call Mrs. Barnum at 3142-W. The meeting on Monday night will be good and interesting, so see you there! The meeting will be held in the Farmington Library.

Family Pays Tribute To Mrs. Catherman

The family of Mrs. Maggie Catherman was very proud to honor her mother at an open house on her 80th birthday, Sunday, February 15. Festivities were held at the home of Mrs. Catherman's daughter, Mrs. Harold Quin of Pickett Avenue.

Eight of Mrs. Catherman's children were present with their families and the honored lady received many beautiful gifts.

There were guests present from Port Huron, Dearborn, Pontiac, and surrounding towns.

Even Mrs. George Bowman, who herself is 81 years old, was able to be there from Port Huron with her five children and their families. Mrs. Bowman is Mrs. Catherman's sister-in-law.

Over 200 callers signed the guest register.

Mrs. Catherman has lived in Farmington for forty years and has been active in civic work. She has received a citation from the Polio Foundation and a pin from the American Red Cross in the past week for work recently accomplished for these groups.

The Farmington W. C. T. U. will hold its next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Peter Fortbairn, 21631 Wheeler Street, on February 24. The 1:30 p.m. meeting will feature Dr. Gordon Northrop, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Farmington, who will lead devotions. All members and friends are urged to attend.

A veteran of two years' service, the young serviceman may be reached at the following address: David Andrew Turner, FAL-WEA-TRA-DAC, Box H, FPO, San Francisco, California.

'Duchie' Is Latest Cat Missing In Farmington

"Duchie" is the latest of the felines to be reported as lost in the Farmington area, according to a report from its owner, Mrs. Horrie Ercolani of 15322 Beconfield in Detroit.

The cat has been missing from its home since February 3 and since that time things have not been the same for Mrs. Ercolani's two daughters and "Duchie's" son — they all want her back very much and have offered a reward for her return.

Mrs. Ercolani says that the cat is 6 1/2 years old and answers to the names of "The Duchess", "Duchess", or "Kitty Duch".

The Ercolani believe that the cat may have come to Farmington via the truck of a Farmington man who recently worked on a furnace in the Ercolani home.

Tennant explained that there are two possibilities of financing the proposed sewage plant. One is on a revenue bond basis, the other on a general obligation bond.

In the case of the general obligation bond, no vote of the people would be required because the state is requiring that the plant be built in the interest of public health and safety.

Boy Scout Troop 35 Holds Housewarming

Farmington Boy Scout Troop 35 held its annual Housewarming on February 16 at the Baptist Church. The invitation was given by Dr. Northrop.

Some 100 persons were on hand for the festivities and the pot luck dinner was served by the girls of Girl Scout Troop 177.

After dinner songs were sung and then Mr. Barnum introduced Mr. Ken Sanderson, district chairman, who in turn introduced members of the committee of Troop 35. Following that procedure, demonstrations were put on by the various scout patrols.

The highlight of the evening occurred when Burton Galbraith was presented with his pin for perfect attendance for five years.

Township Zoning

Dowling. The Enterprise incorrectly referred to this group as the Zoning Board of Appeals in the story appearing in last week's issue.

The Township Board emphasized at its meeting last week that the action of January 27 was not final. The suggested changes are to be filed with the Zoning Board for consideration and recommendations. The Zoning Board is required to hold public hearings on the proposed changes. Following the study and public hearings, the Zoning Board will submit its recommendations back to the Township Board for final action. After the Township Board has taken action, the people have ten days in which to file a petition calling for a referendum vote if they desire.

Jaycees Now Working On March 20 Minstrel

"Who was that woman I saw you with last night?" "That was no woman, that was my wife!"

Everyone knows that the above joke (J) is one of long standing but the Farmington Jaycees have teased out all the old ones and have announced that their Minstrel Show on March 20 will be loaded with new ones. Rumor has it that Phil Thomas, who will be interlocutor of the new production, will even sing a different song.

Such well-known performers as Nate Mihay, Cecil Roberts, Paul Braustein, Ed West, Jim Shaughnessy and James Warner will serve as end men and there will be plenty of singing, gags and dancing.
