as the "worst of mixture of prisoners I have ever seen".

Other important but lesser reasons listed were the excessive size of the prison. Its 57,6 acres are too big to be properly supervised. Low grade personnel including guards, most of whom had separate jobs and some of whom slept on duty, was also considered. The present parole system, according to the criminologist, left much to be desired.

Claiming that other conditions were so far overshadowed by the lack of segregation that they could wait, Mr. McCormick put a new prison alone at the top of the list of things that must be corrected. All efforts should be expended to secure that, he said, and once it is accomplished it would be proper to consider other solutions, like improving prison administration, raising the level of personnel and changing the parole system and methods.

A bill to control excessive speed of motor boats was unanimously approved by the state senate and little trouble is expected to prevent the measure from becoming law. Cottagers and resorts have been plagued for years with "would-be water wizards" cavorting too close to fishing boats, docks and shores. No clear cut law to enforce careful conduct on the water existed, so strict law enforcement officers were faced with a difficult problem. Since the proposed bill gives control to local boards of supervisors, it will be much more simple to regulate and control speed boating.

Another bill introduced in the house of representatives would require that all prison camps be fenced and the grounds lighted. Inmates at the camps would be required to wear special identifying steel collars on their trousers. The sending of sex criminals to the camps could also be prohibited by judges, under the proposed law.

Construction will start this spring at Mackinac Island on a memorial to Dr. William Beaumont, the physician who made great contributions to science by studying a patient with a hole in his stomach.

The project is financed by the Michigan State Medical Society, which has as its aim, a contribution from every medical doctor in the state. This fund already amounts to $22,428.90 plus a grant of $10,000 by Parke Davis and Company, a Detroit pharmaceutical firm, and leaves a balance of $13,500 yet to be raised.

Michigan industries have added 187,000 workers to their payroll since January, 1952, says the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

DOYLE BUCKNER NOW TRAINING WITH MARINES

Marine Private Doyle Buckner, 19, son of Mrs. Hester C. Wilson, of 23015 Lakeway, is now undergoing training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, California.

The nine-week "boot camp" instructs recruits in such basic military subjects as precision drill, first aid, Marine Corps history and mission, and field tactics.

Three weeks of the training is spent at the Camp Matthews Rifle Range, situated 15 miles north of San Diego. While there, the recruit fires the .30 caliber Garand rifle, .45 caliber pistol, carbine and Browning Automatic Rifle.

Upon completion of recruit training each man will be granted a ten-day leave and, if he maintained a good record, he will be promoted to Private First Class. After four weeks of individual combat training at Camp Pendleton, which is about 40 miles north of San Diego, Private Buckner will then be assigned to a Marine post or station for duty or to a Marine Corps School for advanced training.
