Show me a homemaker and... I'll show you a woman who would trade her old range for a modern automatic Gas Range in less time than it takes you to read this ad.

And who can blame her? Why shouldn't she want to exchange the extra work and inconvenience of an old fashioned range for a new Gas Range? If you ask her why, she can tell you that too.

A homemaker knows that today's automatic Gas Ranges are equipped with modern features that mean cleaner and faster cooking, smokeless broiling, and large, insulated ovens that cook automatically with clock control. She likes the smart design and porcelain finish that's so easy to keep clean and looks so nice in her kitchen. These features add up to less time in the kitchen and more time to enjoy her home.

If the reader is the lady of the house, you're already convinced. If you are the man of the house, take a look at your present range and compare it with the features listed above.
Then you, too, will know why today's homemaker desires a modern automatic Gas Range.

Your Gas Appliance Dealer... will be glad to show you these new automatic ranges. They cost less to buy, less to use, and less to install than any other automatic range on the market today.

wood of Farmington Road, received word from the War Department last Monday that their son, Pfc.
Howard B. Middlewood, Jr., serving in Korea, had received critical arm and chest injuries. The young soldier had but recently recovered from wounds suffered in early February.

Neighborhood Sunshine Sisters met in Neighborhood Church last Wednesday afternoon. Suggested by the St. Patrick's Day season, "Snakes" was the topic, and was carried out as a devotional theme as well as in the general discussion. Many interesting facts of natural history were brought out.
Later, reports were given of the last Health Guild meeting, held at Maybury Sanitarium. During the social hour birthday greetings were sung for Mrs. Ellnor Dickson and Mrs. Hannah Ault. As a special treat honoring the occasion, strawberry shortcake and a beautifully decorated green and white birthday cake were served with the customary tea. The next
