Local Bankers Get Certificates

The Oakland County Bankers Association will hold its 14th annual banquet on September 17 at 7:00 p.m. at the American Legion Hall in Royal Oak, honoring 69 members of the American Institute of banking who have successfully completed courses in banking.

The evening's guest speaker will be Mr. Louis Komlath, a Detroit attorney and a former banker.

The American Institute of Banking was organized in 1900 as the result of a petition presented to the American Bankers Association by bank employees in various cities and since 1908 the Institute has operated as the educational section of the Association. The Institute makes its program available to the personnel of all banks that are members of the American Bankers Association throughout the United States and its possessions.

The Oakland County Chapter was formed under the sponsorship of the Oakland County Bankers Association and was chartered in the summer of 1933 to create a better understanding in banking.

Since that time the chapter has grown to 400 members from 10 banks in the county.

Those members from this area being honored for receiving a Pre-Standard Certificate, which requires a student to complete four courses, will include Fred S. Davis and Robert C. Sallow, Farmington State Bank. Other receiving recognition for completing courses are Rose Marie Breen, Francis H. Davis and Donna M. Koehler, also from the Farmington State Bank.

Another feature of the banquet will be the presentation of the president's pin to Larry Jones of the Rochester National Bank and the new president, Mrs. Lorraine Attie of the Birmingham National Bank.

Michigan had its greatest road building year with 40 million dollars worth of state highway contracts being awarded. Some $3 million of concrete pavement were added and 1,055 miles of resurfacing. The state built 24 new bridges.

Profit Margins Down Since Korea

During the past two decades, American corporations, as a group, have never earned a profit of more than five cents on each dollar of sales. In 1952 they earned only 3.8 cents on each dollar of sales. This was lower than the profit margin in 1929 immediately preceding the Korean War.

The figures in the chart show profits after taxes. Inventory profit—that is, the apparent profit due to increases in the price at which inventories are carried on the books—has also been eliminated. This is in accord with the statistical practice of the U. S. Department of Commerce which does not include so-called inventory profits as part of the national income.

Frankfort Sets Soaring Meet For Sept 18-20

15 Gliders, 40 Fliers To Compete For Awards

Frankfort, Michigan, which in pre-war years was the center of glider activities in the Midwest and scene of competition among the world's most famous pilots of motorless aircraft, will witness the return of sailplanes off the Lake Michigan bluffs and at Elberta September 18 to 20 in revival of the Northwest Michigan Open Soaring meet.

Success of the first effort of this region to regain its place in glider circles has been assured with the entry of approximately 15 soaring planes and more than twice that number of pilots, according to officers of the Northwest Michigan Soaring Association, Inc., sponsor of the competition.

Peter Pinos of Frankfort, president of the association, and Zada (felo) Price of Elberta, general chairman for the meet, in announcement of the meet dates, said this will be the first of annual competition.

Three soaring sites have been selected for use according to the daily weather conditions. Meet headquarters will be at the Frankfort airport, where equipment will be available to launch planes. Other sites will be at the Elberta beach, across Detroit lake from the city, and at Sutters beach, about 12 miles north of Frankfort along Lake Michigan.

Giders will be launched from the beaches by winches and three tow planes will be available to get sailplanes into the air from the airport.

'Joe College' Gets MSC Clothing Tips

If Joe College, class of '57, is smart, he won't bring all his worldly goods to the campus the fall and he'll take a good look around before adding to his wardrobe.

That's the advice given in a special freshman edition of the Michigan State College "News", M. S. C. student newspaper, by senior editor Phil Gushy. He points out that "whether you're a freshman or a senior, it's wise to bring only the clothes and equipment needed for the season at hand."

"The average college man—at Michigan State or any school—is lucky to have half a closet and two or three drawers in a bureau," Gushy said. Unused gear takes up valuable space. If a "vital" item is left behind, Mom can always send it in the laundry case or it can be locally purchased." He added that "it's wise to wait and see what is being worn in the part of the country where you go to school before making too many wardrobe additions."

Entries for the meet have been assured by the University of Detroit, the Purdue University Soaring club, the Chicagoland Glider club, and organizations at Dayton, Toledo, Penn State College, Erie Pennsylvania, and Marshall, Michigan. Prizes are $100. More than 40 pilots and crew members will participate.
