New Poison Apple Opens With Coden

Folk singer Ron Coden will be the featured attraction at the new Poison Apple, opening Tuesday, May 15, at 38418 Ford Road (west of Hix), Westland.

The club, which offers cocktails, dancing and continuous entertainment (but no food other than popcorn and peanuts), is moving to Westland from Detroit, complete with many of the antiques which give it its distinctive atmosphere.

The antiques and the mood range from the gay '60s to the roaring '20s.

David Tann, who owns the popular Dirty Helen's Saloon in Detroit, will be the host at the Poison Apple. The manager is Jack Castillo, formerly of the Congress Inn in Dearborn.

The Poison Apple will be open from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Coden will be joined by another popular attraction, still to be signed.

Coden, who has been growing in popularity with audiences over the past three years, began his career by finishing a teaching degree at Wayne State University and traveling around to various schools, playing and singing.

ATTEND 383 TOWN HALL MEETINGS A WEEK, OR... join Regional Citizens.

There are 383 separate local governments in Southeastern Michigan Region, governed by 5,298 duly elected officials, give or take a duly elected official here or there. In addition, there are other thousands of appointed officials, administrative aides, board members, etc., etc. And for the most part, these local public officials do a commendable job of serving the citizens of their individual communities.

However, we who live in Southeastern Michigan have become more than just citizens of individual communities. We may live in one community, work in another, shop in a third, worship in a fourth and receive our health care in a fifth.

We are, in fact, citizens of the entire metropolitan Detroit

Region of Southeast Michigan. And, as regional citizens, we are all concerned with regional problems that are too big for any one community to solve. Air pollution does not stop at any city's limits. The fresh water used in Port Huron today, could be waste material in Luna Pier tomorrow. Transportation. Health care services and facilities. Trash disposal. Parks and recreation areas. These are just a few of concerns common to all. And the number is growing.

What can you, as an interested regional citizen do? You can join Regional Citizens, a public affairs organization open to any citizen of Southeast Michigan who wants to have a voice in his own destiny.

Yes, I believe there are regional problems which need solving and I would like a voice in that process. Please send me information on how to join Regional Citizens.
