It's Our Opinion

Several Times . . .

in the past we have expressed the opinion that the township needs additional police protection. Nothing township needs additional ponce protection. Nothing has happened in recent weeks to change that opinion.

At the present time the township has one police officer for 36 sections. He is subject to 24 hour call in case of emergency, is required to make periodic checks on bars and taverns in the township, and is expected to patrol the roads and highways. Naturally pected to patrol the roads and highways. Naturally it is a physical impossibility for him to do them all and do them adequately.

As the twonship grows the demands for better police protection will increase. In the past few months an umber of requests have been filed by citizens asking for increased patrolling. We believe that these people are entitled to some consideration. But it is impossible for one officer to do all the jobs requested.

| Sunday School. | 115 a.m., the Morning Worship continued to the past few months for the months of the months of the past few months for increased patrolling. We believe that these people are entitled to some consideration. But it is impossible for one officer to do all the jobs requested. | MININGTON FIRST HAPTIST MORE and The past few months for the months of the past few months few months for the months few months More and more emphasis is being placed on the appling rise in traffic accidents and deaths. If we are not solve the weekley we work the appling rise in traffic accidents and deaths. If we are not remain to solve the weekley we work the solve the weekley we work the solve the weekley we work the solve the weekley we were the solve the solve the weekley we work the solve the going to solve the problem we must step up the enforcement of traffic laws. This can't be done without policemen to patrol our roads and highways.

This is not just a scheme to dream up ways of spending money. The township has made a considerable investment in a police car, radio equipment, and a teletype system, the latter two of which they share soft of priday, senior Choir. with the city. It is sound business to get the maximum use out of this equipment. This is not being accomplished with only one policeman.

Protection is not an expense... it is an investment in lives and property and a service urgently needed by a growing community.

Amazing Progress . . .

has been made in the Farmington and Clarenceville School Districts during the past few years in the development of a program of continuing education.

Some people have the impression that education ceases upon graduation from high school or college. Actually the education of the individual continues on through life, and nowhere is this more clearly evident than in our growing adult education programs. More and more people are finding that they need special training and recreation to meet the demands of present day living, and their wants are being satisfied through practical and interesting adult classes.

Along with the desire for further training and education, citizens realize the importance of utilizing existing facilities in the community. There has been existing facilities in the community. There has been some criticism of the fact that school buildings and facilities are not used to the extent they should be. Modern schools represent a major investment paid for by the taxpayers and yet in many localities they are utilized only a portion of the year. The development of an adult program is a partial answer to this criticism. The schools belong to the citizens and in this case they are drawing extra dividends on their investment.

Thus the Enymineton and Clarenceville adult adustication.

Thus the Farmington and Clarenceville adult education programs are serving a two-fold need, to further equip the individual and to more adequately use the modern facilities available. It is not only good citizenship... but also just plain good business.

Encouraging Words...

about the future operation of the Post Office Department were spoken in Detroit last week by Senator Frank Carlson, chairman of the Post Office Com-

The words, in substance, were efficiency first a proposed in the second. Carlson expressed an opinion which has been shared by many citizens for many years. The recent hearings regarding a proposed increase in second class mailing rates, brought out a number of suggestions which, if carried out, would not only reduce the deficit but would add greatly to the efficiency of the service. The words, in substance, were efficiency first the efficiency of the service.

We have become so accustomed to increased cost of government that it is a habit with us. When we see a deficit, we automatically see a tax boost. Naturally, some increases are necessary but only after the maximum efficiency has been attained. None of us object to paying our just share, but the the same time we reserve the right to request that the money be spent wisely and efficiently.

It is encouraging to know that others feel the same way about it!

Look for a series of appointments to state positions. And look quick, concentrated criticism from Republican leaders wherever ere is room for the charge of "politics".

A compromise-minded governor is less likely to encounter trouble making appointments which must be confirmed by the senate, tere is a natural conflict aletween the administrative and legislive branches. If leading senators on pressure the governor into pointing their choices, natural of there is no trouble in legislar there is no trouble in legislar confirmation.

When one resident of Farmington wants some coffee, he doesn't go to the grocery store - - he just steps out into his garden. Well, it isn't quite asizood as that, but we were pleased to receive this week from P. A. Gildden, of Lakeway Drive, a beautiful brown stalk of the coffee plant, which he grows in his own garden. The plant has pods in, which are the coffee beans, still green, but already taking shape. The stalk is two feet high.

With tickets sold for both performances, members of the cast of "Rosetime", starring P. Owen Pauline and Mrs. Harley Warner, are ready for the opening of the play. The comedy will be played in the Methodist Community Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings.

With two ball games as features and numerous other attractions, residents of West Foint Park will hold a Gala Day celebration Saturday afternoon. Missie will be furnished by the Northville Community School Dand, and besides the athletté events, there will be bootles and other diversions.
