STORTI - ESTEP TO CO-EDIT '54 YEARBOOK

The seniors of Clarenceville High School met for the second senior class meeting of the year Tuesday, October 6. The meeting was called to order by President John Ferris. All seniors discussed the class yearbook and the importance of putting out a good book. The seniors discussed putting the book in memoriam of Mr. John C. Kennedy, who taught for many years in Clarenceville. Mr. Kennedy passed away early this summer.

Mrs. Margarine Fairman will sponsor the yearbook. A meeting was held to elect co-editors for Patricia Storti and Geraldine Estep. Five committees were selected to organize the yearbook, which are: typist, script, photographs, art and advertising. These committees will work together and organize the yearbook for the senior class. Anyone willing to donate snapshots may give them to Mrs. Fairman. S. V.

W.S.C.S. MEETING NIGHT SET Women of the Livonia Methodist Church are endeavoring to organize a second W. S. C. S. group to hold meetings on scheduled evenings rather than afternoons. The idea is to enlist the services of business women and others who cannot conveniently attend daytime get-togethers. Last Thursday night a meeting was held for the purpose of making plans. Naturally, the two groups of women will cooperate in their activities. John Clappison acts Insurance.

Feature Teacher

Anywhere she wanders, anywhere she roams — she teaches school.

Yes, that description fits our feature teacher of this week. She has taught school in Mexico, Arizona, and of course, Michigan. At the present time she is teaching eighth grade math, general math, and geometry at Clarenceville. Besides teaching she has worked for the Navy as an electrical test engineer.

If you happen to be going past Room 106 and see a head of flaming red hair and a pair of sparkling blue eyes, standing at the height of five feet eight inches from the floor, you can be pretty sure she is our feature teacher, Mrs. Margarine Fairman.

Almost eighteen months ago a very wonderful person came into her life. This little person was given the name of Declie Bea and has become so important in Mrs. Fairman's life that she is now one of her hobbies along with reading.

Mrs. Fairman was born in York, Nebraska. When she was fifteen years of age she graduated from high school and to further her education she came to Central Michigan to receive her B. A. and to Columbia University in New York to earn her master's degree.

Under favorites, Mexican foods rate tops for eating. Turquoise is especially beautiful in her sight and when she is in the mood for music she likes "Grand Canyon Suite". J. T.

Editorial

"School kids are so irresponsible. They never take the time or initiative to find out anything about serious things like government."

If you're wondering who is the author of such a statement, it is the general adult public. It seems that we teenagers have impressed on folk in us as future citizens of America. They think we do not delve into such things which pertain to government procedures, but just to prove how wrong they are, let us take a look at Clarenceville High School.

It seems that during October 13 through 14 the Student Council decided to let the students, as citizens of Clarenceville High School, elect a president of the Council who is the official head of the student body. In this election the potential voters registered on Tuesday, then on Wednesday each of those who registered prior to election day went to the polls to cast his ballot for the eye whom

CHS Homecoming Set For Oct. 23

Clarenceville will hold its Homecoming Friday, October 23.

Last Tuesday, October 13, at its meeting the G. A. A. picked the committee chairman. They are as follows: Marilyn Durkin and Nancy Moore, queen selection; Joyce Paul and Nancy Jenkins, decorations, music and entertainment; Maureen Dally, Dorothy Trewhitt and Evelyn Woreb, refreshments; Carolyn Peace, publicity; Dorothy Riddell, chaperones, and Mary Lou Barnes, clean-up.

Certainly after this hard work and interest of our Student Council, who are nothing more than teenagers, adults cannot call us irresponsible.

Our Student Council took this campaign over magnificently and proved that we were interested in more than the latest dance step where Bob and Carol are going tonight.

Senior Highlights

MARY CASHMAN

You team! The cheerleaders are going wild, and it's another victory for Clarenceville. Now we shall see who's responsible for some of this cheering. She has blonde hair, sparkling blue eyes, and stands 5' 3 1/2" tall. Her head size is medium, shoe size 5 1/2 and her favorite color is blue. This gal has been on the cheering squad since the fourth grade. If you haven't guessed who she is by now, her name is Mary Cashman.

Mary was born in Ironwood, Wisconsin, and lived there until the age of seven when she moved to Clarenceville and started school. She attended school at Clarenceville ever since. Mary will be celebrating her 15th birthday on January 18. Her favorite record is "You, You, You" and her favorite recording star is Teresa Brewer. On TV Mary rates "The Voice of Firestone" as her favorite program.

Mary's closest friend is Judy Gardner, but she thinks that many friends are important. Our highlight's favorite pastime is going to football games to watch her boy friend Melvin Koch, who is also a senior at Clarenceville. As for food, Mary just loves bananas.

Her favorite teacher is Mr. James and her favorite subjects are chemistry and algebra. Mary's pet peeve is people who sit on the sidelines and criticize the cheerleaders and players. Her ambition is to go to college at Ypsilanti and take up physical education, so some day she can become a physical education instructor. P. B.

Attention, all spacemen! Be on the lookout for a missing spaceman from the planet Clarenceville. When last seen he was aboard Spaceship "Senior Class".

He is described as having blue eyes, medium brown hair and he extends to the height of 5' 7" into space.

If you are in doubt about ever seeing him, there are several characteristics by which you might identify him.

When offered food, he will eat almost any kind. He will probably have his space radio watch turned to a song entitled "P. S. I Love You". He gives you a dreamy look when you mention his favorite vocalists, Teresa Brewer and Eddie Fisher.

He is most enthusiastic about his spacemobile which is a blue '40 Plymouth spacer. He has a special talent for giving dirty looks to people who insist on pushing him through space in planet Clarenceville halls.

He will answer to the space name, Dick, which is short for "Richard" Wood.

His future ambition is to graduate from the planet Clarenceville to the planet World.

I guess that gives enough information on Spaceship Wood. Remember to watch for him and if you happen to see him, call Space NIXOK. (You may find him on any gridiron or running the track.) J. T.

The Homecoming dance will be held in the gym after the game between Clarenceville and Holly; starting at 8:00 p.m. No guest passes will be required for the dance. M. G.
