FALCONS DROP TWO IN LEAGUE PLAY BY ONE RUN MARGIN

The Falcon baseball team lost both of last week's games, the margin being one run in each case. In the Berkeley game last Tuesday, the Falcons were edged out 3-2. Saturday, the Berkeley pitcher, scored Donohoe from third with a long triple in the fourth inning for the Bears' first tally, and in the bottom of the fourth homered to right field, scoring Phillips and Eisenhart. The Falcons runs came in the sixth inning. Bob Markham walked, John Dyke singled to center field, and Don Robinson cleared the sacks with a home run to right field. Neither team scored in the seventh, and Berkeley went home with their second victory over the Falcons this year. At Van Dyke, sloppy fielding and a bad break lost the Falcons that game by the score of 9-3. Van Dyke scored two runs in the first inning on a walk and two errors. Robinson singled in the second, took third on a fielder's choice, and scored for Farmington when Jones' grounder was booted. The Abes took advantage of another defensive lapse by Farmington in the bottom of the second and scored five runs in one hit and four errors. Farmington got one back in the third when Jerry Rife singled, took second on an infield out, and scored on Johnny Fawcett's second consecutive hit. Van Dyke made it 8-2 in the fourth when they combined two singles and a stolen base to score a run. In the fifth, Jim Garner batted for Rife and drew a walk, Marki singled to center, and Markham took first on a fielder's choice to load the sacks with Falcons; Garner scored when the right fielder dropped Fawcett's deep fly, and Marki came across when Robinson hit into a force play at second. With Don West at bat, Markham scored and Robinson took third on a passed ball by the catcher. West then singled, scoring Robinson. The score then stood at 8-6. In the sixth, Alexander singled, Bonneville forced him at second, Markham doubled, and Fawcett came through with his third hit to score Bonneville and Markham. This tied it up at 8 all. Dryden came in to pitch, got Gordon to line out a durable play, and struck out Coulter. Gordon replaced Jozesz on the mound with the bases loaded and got the Abes out of the inning. In the seventh, Gills filed to strike. Jozesz singled to right, Grimes singled to center, Krol grounded to West. With two strikes on Underwood, Jozesz, from third base, broke for home. Dryden pitched, and the batter swung and missed. Then the umpire claimed that Dryden had balked, and gave Van Dyke the run and the ball game. A mild altercation ensued. L. P. V.
