P.T.A. Schedules Varied Program

A program designed to be of interest to all has been arranged for the first 1955 meeting of the High School P. T. A. to be held at 8:00 p. m., January 18, in the new high school cafeteria.

Miss Helen Poikala, Oakland County Health Department nurse, will discuss "Health Services Available in Our Community." According to Miss Poikala, most people don't realize what is being done to improve the health and raise the health standards of this area.

Miss Poikala is thoroughly familiar with the functions and services of the various health department units and is well qualified to discuss them. All who are interested, whether members of the P. T. A. or not, are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

The High School Band in full dress attire (furnished by the P. T. A. in 1952) will be on hand to play some of its marching numbers. The band is under the direction of Mr. Robert Zimmerman.

A very interesting exhibit by the Home Economics Department, planned by Miss Kirchner and Miss Strickland, will feature home decorations, cooking, decorating, etc., being taught in the home economics class.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow.

Bond School P. T. A. To Hear Safety Talk

The Bond School P. T. A. will meet Monday, January 17, at 8 p. m. with a talk on a safety program to be given by Serge Peller of Royal Oak, a national safety program chairman.

A business meeting will follow with a discussion of the coming Founders Day program an important item of the agenda.

New John Wesley Film To Be Shown At First Methodist Church Jan. 19

The new John Wesley film, sponsored by the Methodist Men, will be shown at the Farmington First Methodist Church Wednesday, January 19, at 7:00 p. m.

This feature-length film in new Eastman color and produced by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church in cooperation with J. Arthur Rank, brings to the screen for the first time the dynamic and colorful 18th century evangelist and educator.

John Wesley's miraculous rescue from a burning house at the age of five, at the beginning of

Wed Saturday At Methodist Church

At a candlelight service Saturday, January 8, at 7 p. m. at the Farmington Methodist Church, Elizabeth Coleman of Haverhill, Massachusetts, was joined in marriage to George R. Scott of 2104 Shanklin Street, Walled Lake.

The bride's gown was of billowing white satin with a boat neckline and brocaded with seed pearls. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion and carried two flowers centered with an orchid.

Miss Makarow was given in marriage by her father, who came from Massachusetts with his daughter and family for the ceremony.

Irene Makarow, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Patrick Hogan, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid.

Patrick Hogan was best man and Walter Hay was usher.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose a navy blue suit with matching accessories and wore a yellow rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy blue lace dress with matching accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, punch, cake and ice cream were served at the church by members of the W. S. C. S.

the film, forecasts the dramatic and eventful life which unfolded in this story of a man of slight stature but impelling influence upon his contemporaries and upon history.

The English clergyman thought his venture in America as a missionary to the Indians in the Georgia colony was a failure, but it was the kind of failure which opened the door to the discovery of a religious certainty he had been seeking.

Furthermore, this discovery, in which John Wesley felt his "heart strangely warmed," led him to face mobs unafraid, and to ride 250,000 miles on horseback, changing the masses of English people from a low state of moral degradation to sturdy and happy uprightness.

His enthusiasm was frowned upon by the lethargic leaders of the Church of England of that day, but it was his new-found enthusiasm which enabled him to influence so many phases of the life of English-speaking peoples.

His appeal to the common man, his establishment of school clinics, lay preaching and societies — finally his sending of supervisors for the movement in the new world after the American Revolution — all these make the film one which will long be remembered.

The many rave notices given the John Wesley film by most all the national publications attest to the greatness of this outstanding movie. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Make Final Preparations For Square Dance Jan. 15

Girl Scout Troop 253 is completing preparation for the square dance to be held at the Town Hall on January 15.

The dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. with everyone invited to attend. Money collected from the dance will be used by the girls to finance a trip to Washington, D. C.

Girls of the troop went on an ice skating party Saturday at Bald Eagle Lake.
