Hear Talks, Take Tour Of Northville Hospital

On Wednesday, January 12, Clarenceville High School seniors in the Family Living class heard talks on the operation of Northville State Hospital by Kurt Spitzer, psychological social worker, and Harold Mumon, clinical sociologist, at the hospital. Photographs were used to illustrate the various programs carried on in the hospital in carrying for patients. The following day students in the class were taken on a guided tour of the hospital. A question and discussion period followed the enlightening tour. Officials of the hospital disclosed that any community group wishing to take a similar tour will be welcomed. For further information, contact the hospital.
