F.H.S. Quintet Stages Rally To Beat Waterford

The Farmington Falcons streaked ahead of the Waterford Falcons in the fourth period, after playing a nip and tuck game for the first three periods, to down the league cellar dwellers 36-40 last Friday, February 11.

Friday's game was one of many fouls. Three Skipped capers and one Falcon were evicted from the game on fouls.

It was high-scoring, Ron Donoghue's sharpshooting in the fourth period that clinched the cage tilt for the hard-pressed Falcons. Jerry Rice, too, figured decisively in the win for it was Rice's two free shots in the fourth period that broke a 34-31 deadlock. From that spark the Falcon quintet caught fire and surged on to victory.

Donoghue led the Falcons, dunking 17 points in the second game after his return. Rice and John Fawcett followed Donoghue with 13 and 12 points respectively.

Brute Shogun racked up nine points while Bud Jones, who played a brilliant defensive game, got three. Jerry Kraske led the Waterford defense with 17 points.

The next game, a home game, is tomorrow night with Van Dyke.

Work continues on the new gymnasium - auditorium addition being added at the Farmington High School on Siltwater Road with the steel roof beams now erected. The picture above was snapped last Saturday while construction operations were in progress. The addition at the high school, which will include additional classroom space as well as the gymnasium - auditorium, is slated for completion before the opening of school next fall.

FALCON J.V.'s WIN In Last 10 Seconds

With less than 10 seconds to play, Louie Gildemeister sank a basket to give the Farmington J.V. quintet a thrilling 49-48 win over Waterford.

The game was one of the closest match contests of the year with neither team having a decisive edge in the play. The score at the end of the first period indicated this. It was deadlocked at 15-15.

The game stayed tied up until the middle of the second period when Farmington pulled ahead 24-19. Waterford fought back gamely and with a little more than a minute to play, tied it up, this time 24-24.

In the dying minute of the second period, Farmington sank three baskets as the period ended in a 30-24 verdict for Farmington.

For the third period, the game went along in the same way as before. Waterford came to within one point of the Falcons at the end of the quarter.

In the all-important fourth period, Farmington, as in previous games, seemed to lose some of their steam and with two minutes and twenty-seven seconds left in the game, the score was 47-48 for the J.V. With a minute to play, Waterford moved ahead 48-47.

As the tension in the last minute mounted, Gildemeister missed two foul shots, but he more than made up for it when he sank the winning field goal.

Gildemeister, as well as being the hero of the game, was high point man of the team with 17 points to his credit.

He was followed by Jerry Flick with 13 points.

This is the second time in a row that Louie Gildemeister has pulled a game out of the fire. He also won the game a week ago Tuesday with Wayne by scoring two field goals to give Farmington a 39-38 win. R. D.

Trojans Downed By Powerful Northville Five

Combining experience and size, the Northville Mustangs downed the Clarenceville Trojan quintet 64-51 in action last Tuesday evening, February 18, but not without a stiff fight.

Northville got off to a fast start against Coach Olenka's smaller and less experienced Trojans and by the end of the first quarter had built up a 20-13 lead. In the second period the Trojans held their own and gave a stiff fight but were unable to cut the lead and left the floor at half-time trailing 32-24.

The Trojans set a record pace in the opening minutes of the third period and narrowed the Mustangs' margin but were unable to keep the pace and fell behind again. Five unneeded points were added by the Mustangs in the last two frames to give them a 44-point edge over the C. H. S. captives.

High point man for Clarenceville in the losing cause was Glen Reed with 17 points to his credit. Grose and Hanafor followed in the scoring column with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

GAME MEN STUDY EFFECTS OF ILLEGAL DEER KILL IN STATE

Results of trial surveys to determine effect of illegal kills on Michigan's deer herd indicate the necessity for a more complete and extensive study of the problem, a conservation department spokesman said last week.

Deer hunters responding to a questionnaire, spot check of selected hunting areas, and an aerial survey of the northern lower peninsula leave little doubt that the illegal deer kill problem is a significant factor in deer management, the department official said. Exactly how significant is a question which can only be answered by a comprehensive study.

Recently, questionnaire postcards were mailed to 1200 Michigan deer hunters asking how many accidentally shot does and fawns during the woods during last year's buck season. About half the hunters have replied. Their individual answers range from no kills seen to 12 or 14 in some cases.

At the Straits of Mackinac last fall, 1259 hunters were interviewed at random. They reported seeing 112 illegally killed deer in the upper peninsula. This same group took 231 bucks.

In the Rifle River area, spot checks were made in 1953 and 1954. In 1953, 100 miles of legal deer to those killed illegally was three to two in 1953 and four to one in 1954. Another check, made in an eight-square mile area near Gladwin in 1954, showed 22 deer illegally killed, 15 known legal kills and 20 estimated additional legal kills. Another check in the vicinity of Ross Lake Wildlife station northeast of Lansing showed two deer killed legally in 1953 and five illegally. In 1954, five were killed legally and three illegally.

An aerial survey of the northern lower peninsula made during the 1952 season showed 3500 illegally killed deer.

As a result of these isolated checks, the department plans a more comprehensive study of the entire problem.

MUSTANGS TOO MUCH FOR SMALL TROJAN RESERVES

The Clarenceville Trojan Reserves found the Northville Mustangs too much to handle last week and lost their cage contest to them 47-33. A 25-point margin by a Mustang ace, Walter Joo, all but killed any Trojan chance for victory.

Northville clobbered the Trojans in the opening period by putting in 14 points to their foes' six in a low-scoring second period they outscored them again 7-4 and walked off the floor at half-time with a comfortable 21-10 lead.

Again in the third quarter Northville outscored Clarenceville, this time 10-10. The Trojans made a flickered bid to come back in the final stanza but the light soon went out and they were able to pick up only three points by outscoring the Mustangs 13 to 10.

Dorman and Devitt shared scoring honors for the Trojans with seven and six points respectively.

Original theory on what makes popcorn was that steam generated within the hull caused the explosion. New belief is that a rearrangement of the protein material in the corn itself is responsible. Whatever the cause, the effect is that we buy $375 million worth of the stuff a year.

SOME DEER NOT FINDING ENOUGH FOOD

Some of Michigan's deer are not finding enough food to eat this winter. As starvation approaches, deer lose some of their fear of man. They are far rougher and they become wild.

Animals in this weakened condition were seen in the lower peninsula's Gladwin and Baldwin districts late last week.

The upper peninsula reported light snowfalls and moderate to cold temperatures for the week. The lower peninsula had light snow flurries and very cold weather.
