The Road Situation . . .

In Farmington Township and City is a matter of grave concern to a great many conscientious citizens, and well it should be.

and well it should be.

Diring the past several weeks an increasing number of mail roads as well as side streets reached the "travel at your own risk" stage, which in most cases means stay off if you don't want a towing bill. It isn't too much consolation to be reminded that this sort of thing happens every year about this time, or that conditions are rough all over.

that conditions are rough all over.

As far as the city is concerned, it was proposed five of six years ago to initiate a program of systematically constructing curb and paving on sections of streets throughout the area. The proposal was designed to give the city a permanent street layout without an excessive expenditure in any one year. It was also intended to eliminate the present yearly high cost obs-gnaintenance. However, the proposal has never become a reality. In spite of the increased demands on the budget, we still believe that some money should be set aside for the establishment of a permanent street improvement program with the possible supplement of special assessment funds, if necessary. In the township, because of size and limited gov-anent street improvement program with the possible supplement of special assessment funds, if necessary. In the township, because of size and limited governmental jurisdiction, the problem is more difficult. Nonetheless it is a major problem and one that should receive far more attention than it is getting. The Township Board can and should establish a yearly budget item for road maintenance, working towards permanent improvement. In turn, they should exert every effort to graphically bring the problem before the County Road-Commission. The ever-increasing number of homes demands year-around roads for the health and safety of the people.

The township has, on several occasions, cooperated with property owners in the construction of roads in specific areas. They have also, from time to time, (contributed funds for the maintenance of more traveled roads in the township. However, the time has come when a regular program must be set up on a township level with particular attention to the main service roads. Such a program should include an agressive liaison between the township and the county. With the ever-increasing population in the city and lower in a surface of the program with the graving volume of pages.

gressive naison between the township and the country.
With the ever-increasing population in the city and township and with the growing volume of neessary auto traffic, roads are becoming more and more vital to the welfare of the entire community. It is a matter of grave concern, and well it should be.

"There are other outstanding weekly papers in in sear vicinity, too, such as the Rochester Clarion and the Birmingham Eccentric. The people of the communities they serve should realize how fortunate they are to be so well represented in the journalistic field...it's a good thing for any town to have a first class newspaper. Nothing can take the place of the established newspapers in those communities and everyone should support them to the hilt against any orm of fly-by-night enterprise which tends to weaken and reduce the service they can perform.

"We are much humbled by the exceptionally corresponse we have had here at the 'Review' these past two years, for practically everyone in Lake Orion has given us 100% cooperation in our efforts to produce the best possible paper for this community. Yes, we do have our hearts set on one of these state awards, too, some day . . . but it will be a long time before we are really in the class with some of these other weeklies '(some of which are probably not fully appreciated by their own people.) of total collapse in 1956, are determined.

The clash is expected by the experts to give Michigan one of the hottest spring campaigns in history and bring out voters to get into the unusual fight. Demo-trats want the two seats on the Michigan Supreme Court, the two each on the Board of Agriculture, but the controls Michigan State College: the University of Michigan Board of Regents and the State Board of Education, which coperates the teachers' colleges. It would be a major blow for Republicans to lose the post of Superintendent of Public Instrument tion, now held by Claif L. Taylor, to the Democrats.

One of the most encouraging educational events of this decade has just occurred. At is the publication of the 1935 Magridor's "American Government," widely was think shool civics textbook. The reason this new edition is sumportant is the fact that in the 10 years during which the Magrud-rbook has been the center of controversy, it has passed through an evolution of rewriting and transformation. And now the 1936 book gives high school civics teachers and students a text which openly and proudly proclaims the advantages of our American system.

A number of school boards around the country banned the book. Some educators unfortunately accused the protesting parents of having "book burning" and "censorship" inclinations. This inflamed the controversy. Other educators read the book and agreed with the parents that changes should be made.

For the second time within two years, electors of School District Number 6, Monday evening defeated a proposed bond issue for building a new school. Only a small proportion of the electors cags ballofs. Last month the district voted 28 to 15 to build a gew four room school. However, the election Monday night was found necessary because the amount of, the bond issue to be approved was not stated in the notice of the meeting on February 25, at which the proposal to build a school was carried. At the later election, 34 persons voted, 32 voting against the bond issue and 22 for it. The amount of the bond issue for the proposed four-room school on the Noble School site was to be $45,000. It will be necessary now for the School Board to ask the Department of Education to egged for
