

V.F.W. Essay Contest Entries Being Judged
The annual essay contest of the Farmington V. F. W. Auxiliary for high school students closed March 15. The subject this year was "What Civil Defense Means To Me." Students of Clarenceville and Farmington High Schools participated in the contest. The essays are now being judged by Mrs. John Newman, teacher at Middlefield School, Mrs. Stevenson, and Judge Jagle. They will pick the three top essays. Prizes will be awarded to the winners. The winning essays will then be entered in the state contest. The Auxiliary thanks all students who entered the contest. The winners will be announced in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Steuck of 33395 Middlebelt were surprised early Saturday morning by a call from Detroit. Mr. Steuck's sister, Mrs. William Vavra of Swanville, Minnesota, was waiting there for him to come and pick her up. While she was here they made several sight-seeing trips. One of them was to go through the historical old Trinity Lutheran Church in Detroit. Of course, Mrs. Vavra was taken to the modern shopping district of Northland. For her entertainment on Sunday, a family dinner was planned and Mrs. Steuck's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stage of Birmingham, and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Doll of Berkeley, present. Mrs. Vavra left for Minnesota by plane Wednesday.

Most of the managers and cooks of Farmington Township Schools attended the Cooks' Workshop in Holly last Friday. James Reed also attended, taking part in the program. There was an interesting panel discussion by some of the administrators of the school system. After lunch and entertainment, a group of students from Walled Lake held a panel discussion, giving the students' point of view of the menus. It was a worthwhile trip.
The worst part about having no judgment is that one never misses it.
