Last Mental Health Film To Be Shown On April 24

The last in a series of mental health films will be presented at the Universal Church on Sunday evening, April 24, at 7:30 p.m. Instead of April 27, as was previously announced.

Entitled "Family Circles" the movie shows how parental indifference and emotional conflict can interfere with a child's success in school, and contrasts this with the results obtained when parents cooperate with teachers in helping a child build constructive social attitudes. There will be a short discussion period following the film showing.
