

Hens that normally lay brown-shelled eggs will lay white eggs when a new drug, nicarbazin, is added to their ration, according to Dr. Clyde Marsh, Ohio State University extension poultryman. Developed to control coccidiosis, researchers state that the drug interferes with hatchability of eggs, but apparently has no other side effects.

Report Progress On Formation Of Nursery School

A successful start has been made on the organization of a cooperative nursery school in Franklin Knolls and surrounding areas.

An enthusiastic group attended the first meeting and concrete plans were formulated to make the school a reality as soon as possible. Committees on publicity, teaching and housing were appointed and will report their progress at the next meeting of the group. Advertisements have been placed in local newspapers in an effort to secure a certified nursery school teacher. The committee in charge of this phase of the program will organize interviews with anyone qualified. Contacts should be made through Mrs. Harry Freeman at Mayfair 63473.

The housing committee is in the process of choosing a central location for the school. The cooperative nursery will be situated on the families living in an area bounded by Nine Mile Road and Fourteen Mile Road and Lahser and Farmington Road will be able to participate with their children in the school. This location will be selected only after a vote has been taken by the parents attending the first meeting.

The schedule of meetings for the next several weeks are as follows: Thursday, September 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pedrell, 18756 Hilton; and one block north of Ten Mile; and Thursday, September 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Fishman, 32395 Shrewsbury, Franklin Knolls.

The Wayne-Oakland County Cooperative Nursery School Council will continue to guide and direct this new school. The cooperative nursery will be licensed by the state and approved by the Department of Social Welfare. Additional information may be secured by calling Mayfair 65055.
