Beverly Ellis On Wayne Committee

Wayne University announced this week that Beverly Lyons Ellis of 2828 Briarhill Drive, has been selected to serve on the 1955 Homecoming Committee.

Beverly will represent the alumni on the Alumni Homecoming Committee and will assist in planning reception activities for Homecoming Day, Saturday, October 29.

Highlight of the day's activities will be the Tartar grid contest with Western Reserve at 2 p.m. Activities planned for the day include a campus tour for returning alumni and a reception at the Alumni House after the game.

Festivities at Tartar Field will feature the annual float parade and the traditional presentation of a Homecoming Queen.

The day's events will be climaxed at the annual Homecoming Dance, to be held that evening in the Grand Ballroom of the Metropolitan Hotel.

The University-wide event is sponsored by Wayne's Student Council.

The great standard of literature, as to purity and exactness of style, is the Bible.

Jr. - Sr. High PTA To Hold First Meeting Oct. 18

The first meeting of the Farmington Junior - Senior High P.T.A. will be held Tuesday evening, October 18, Ivan Clarke, president, disclosed this week.

A "re-acquainted" party will be held at the new high school gymnasium, affording parents and teachers an opportunity to meet from 7:30 until 9:00 p.m. Refreshments will then be served by Mrs. Grimshaw and Mrs. Greenberg, co-chairmen of the room mothers.

Events scheduled throughout the year will include the annual high school Christmas Concert in December. Founders' Day will be observed on February 21 and will feature exhibits from the Junior High School art and manual training departments. Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Conrad Lam, Heary Ford Hospital, surgeon, whose subject will be "The Heart - Surgery's Last Frontier."

Planned for April 17 is the P. T. A. annual meeting and election of officers. Judge Arthur E. Moore, of Oakland County Probate Court, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "Teen-Age Problems."

All parents are urged to attend both the regular and special meetings of the High School Parent Teachers Association and take an active part in the programs. Mrs. Blanche Sakofski will contact individual parents regarding meetings. Each meeting, according to officials, is being planned to be informative and provide time for good fellowship.

Clarenceville P.T.A. To Meet October 18

The next meeting of the Clarenceville P. T. A. will be in keeping with Fire Prevention Week, which is this month. The meeting will be held on October 18 at 8:00 p.m. at the high school.

Fred Ashlock, fire chief of the Lincoln - Mercury Wayne Assembly plant, will present with a display of different types of fire extinguishers, which he will discuss.

New, Used Books Offered For Sale By Local A.A.U.W.

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women is sponsoring its annual Book Sale today and tomorrow, October 13 and 14, at the Curt Hall automobile agency at 33224 Grand River from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Features of the sale are used books, reasonably priced, used phonograph records, games, dressing patterns, used magazines, good used comic books, and new books for children, selected by a qualified librarian for education and fun. Orders will be accepted for children's books for Christmas giving.

The proceeds from the sale go into the Association's Fellowship Fund which is intended to help students in their continued study, both in the States and abroad, to exchange students, of which three were entertained by Farmington residents last Christmas. Part of the proceeds are also earmarked for the Farmington Library, as are the left-over books from the sale.

Persons having any of the above items to donate to the sale are asked to bring them to the sales room Thursday or phone Mrs. Edge Cope at GR. 4-5908 or Mrs. James Keane at MA. 6-3511, to have them picked up.

People who wake up famous haven't been asleep.

ZUD REMOVES DISCOLORATIONS COPPER POTS & PANS

For nearly all of recorded history men knew no way to influence the critical battle of polio within the human body. Then, in 1951 and 1952, research supported by the March of Dimes revealed that antibodies from other people's blood - contained in gamma globulin - can be "loaned" to an individual by injection and would give some protection against paralytic polio.

But the loaned antibodies would last only a few weeks. And to be effective, they had to be injected before or at most within a few days after a person was exposed to polio; and it is not generally possible to tell when this is.

Obviously, gamma globulin while of value in epidemic situations, was not an answer for the control of polio. Among other things, there could never be enough to go around, since it comes from human blood, and it is extremely expensive.

Now we have the Salk Vaccine. In the most extensive and careful field trial ever given a vaccine, it was shown to be 60 to 90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio. The vaccine now being manufactured is even more effective. It is too much to hope that all of the 165,000,000 people in the United States can be vaccinated, but surely millions of children will surely be inoculated, including almost all in the highly susceptible age group of five years through nine years.

Since polio attacks more children than adults, it is by vaccinating children that the greatest effect can be achieved, in terms of preventing cases of paralytic polio.

Here is what happens when a child is given vaccine. Some seven to ten days after his first shot he begins to develop polio-fighting antibodies. These help strengthen his defenses against paralytic polio. When he receives his second shot, the number of antibodies again rises. Then, approximately seven months later, when he receives his third shot, there is a further rise in antibodies, and he then has the full protection of the vaccine.

Thus the child with one shot has some help in defending himself against paralytic polio. The child with two has even more help. The child with three, properly spaced, has the full protection of the vaccine.

The body tries to defend itself against paralytic polio even without vaccine. What the vaccine does is bolster natural defenses. Everyone would like to know how long the effect of vaccine lasts. And no one can give a hard answer, because we have not had the vaccine very long. A number of children who have received it will be followed through the years until we do know how long it protects.

However, because the level of protection after the third shot is so high, there is reason to hope that it will last for many years.

The third shot is in a sense the real key to the effectiveness of the vaccine. This is why we will look with growing interest toward the 1956 polio season. By that time even youngsters should have received their complete series of injections to make a substantial difference in the nationwide polio rate.

Howard, Stamper Exchange Vows

In an early fall wedding, Pansy Howard became the bride of Ralph Stamper at the Rochester Church of God at 29221 Angling Road.

The former Miss Howard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Howard of Grandon, Wisconsin. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stamper of Angling Road, Livonia.

The church was decorated in a Fall color scheme. Reverend Emmitt Richardson of Royal Oak officiated at the wedding.

Attending the bride was Irene Stamper. John Petrosky served as best man.

Over 60 guests attended the wedding and reception which followed at the home of the groom's parents. Out of town guests included the bride's mother, Mrs. Clifford Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ashley, grandparents of the groom, from Grandon, Wisconsin.

Westbrook PTA To Hear Wayne U. Guest Speaker

The Westbrook P. T. A. will hold its second meeting of the current school year on October 17.

Guest speaker on the evening's program will be Yvonne Lofthouse of the College of Education at Wayne University. Her topic for discussion will be "Your Child's Place Between His Parents and Teachers."

All interested parents and adults in this area are cordially invited to attend the meeting. It will provide parents with an opportunity to meet their children's teachers.
