Follow along the desk from us has the perfect system for getting out of yard work. He lets the leaves pile up until he can't find the snow shovel he left out last spring which blocked the garage door so that he couldn't get the lawn mower out all summer.

Hallow'en holes no terrors for us but we've scared silly of the Christmas bills that are just around the corner.

Northville State Hospital Honors Local Volunteers

On Monday, October 24, the American Red Cross Lady Service and Motor Corps, members of the Farmington - Eight Mile Extension Group and individual volunteers will receive Certificates of Appreciation at the Second Annual Volunteer Day Celebration at Northville State Hospital. Among the local ladies to be honored are Mrs. Patricia Anderson, Mrs. Mary Lou Brien, Mrs. Iola Desmarques, Mrs. Eltha Galt, Mrs. Jean Holmstrom, Mrs. Kay Potter and Mrs. Margaret Teubner.

During the past three years, clubs and individuals have made outstanding contributions to the volunteer program at the hospital through their monthly birthday parties for patients on their adopted wards and providing many other services for the patients.

The program at Northville will begin at 1:30 p.m. with opening remarks from Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent of the hospital, followed by the guest speaker, Mrs. E. K. Wilson, chairman of the service groups for the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross. Mrs. Wilson will talk on "Privileges of Volunteer Service."

The framed Certificates of Appreciation will be presented by the president of the Patients' Representative Council at Northville. A luncheon in the hospital cafeteria will follow the program. Miss J. Patterson, director of occupational therapy, and Miss C. Burke, director of nursing, will be present.

In taking of the valuable contribution volunteers make to the care and treatment program of the hospital, Dr. Brown states, "It is a representative of the community, the volunteer actually demonstrates interest in the patients and their well-being, which is a most important phase in a psychiatric treatment program."

Individuals and groups wishing to know more about the opportunities available in volunteer work, contact Mrs. C. Seefeldt, director of social service at Northville State Hospital, who coordinates volunteer activities.
