Tips Offered On Winter Check For Heating Plant

A former fire chief, now a fire-fighting instructor, who has seen many homes go up in smoke because of carelessness, urges homeowners and businessmen to inspect their furnaces now, before firing up for the dead of winter.

Points to be checked closely, he said, are:

1. Furnaces - see that all connections are tight; if oil or gas is used, there should be no leaks in fuel lines; the smoke or exhaust pipe should be inspected, just in case they loosened up during the summer; if electricity is used to force heat, see that the wiring and motors are in good condition; if you have a coal-fired furnace be sure you have ample metal containers for ashes and cinders.
2. Chimneys - check them from the basement to the top of the stack for loose bricks or cracks in the masonry; escaping gases can cause extreme sickness and death; be sure that no combustibles are stored near the chimney or furnace; install a screen or spark trap at the top of the chimney.
3. Electricity - because of short daylight hours during the winter, a heavy strain will be placed on electrical circuits - don't overload them; if a fuse "blows out" it is an indication that the circuit is overloaded or shorted. If you reduce the load and it continues to blow fuses, call a competent electrical repairman; do not put pennies or other metal objects in the fuse receptacle. Reduce the number of extension cords in your home, they are a constant source of danger.

It would be wise to remember, the fire fighter instructor pointed out, that almost all fires are caused by carelessness. Constant alertness and thoughtfulness can reduce the danger of fire considerably.

After roasting a chicken or turkey, allow the bird to stand in the roasting pan 15 to 20 minutes so that juices may be absorbed. Remove the trussing equipment and place the bird on a large warm platter. Garnish and carve it at the table so everyone can enjoy its full glamour.

Now Is The Time To Use Weed Killer On Lawns

Home owners desiring a lawn free of weeds next spring are advised that now is the time to spray with 2-4-D. That's a tip from John K. Trocke, assistant County Agricultural Agent. He indicates that fall is the best time to get in good blows against such pests as dandelions, chickweed, wild carrot, and buckhorn plants.

Many home-owners have been disappointed with 2-4-D when they applied it in the heat of summer when the plants were dry. Weeds should be growing vigorously, such as they are in the fall, to get the best results with weedicide. Shrubby around the yard is much safer if the spraying is done in the fall. Grapevines are often injured by drift from the weed killer during the summer, Trocke indicates.

To bring crystallized honey back to the liquid form, MSU food specialists suggest placing the container in a pan of warm water until the crystals disappear. If further heating is necessary, set the container of honey on a rack off the bottom of the pan and set the pan over a low heat. Too much heat may cause flavor and color change in honey.

FOREIGN NURSERY AGENTS MUST HAVE 'MICHIGAN PERMIT'

Agents who represent nursery firms of foreign countries and sell in Michigan will be required to have a nursery agent's permit in this state, according to a recent ruling of the attorney general at Lansing.

In the past, agents of nurseries in other states complied, but agents of firms in foreign countries did not, it was disclosed by Director G. S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, whose bureau of plant industry has charge of such licensing. Under the ruling the foreign firm is required to obtain a Michigan nursery license and also agent's permits for its agents in the state.

Although Michigan ships out more nursery stock and plants than it imports, the number of plants of imported stock inspected by representatives of the bureau of plant industry in 1955 numbered between 21 and 25 million, it was stated by the bureau's chief, C. A. Boyer.

Imports consist mainly of bulbs. Shipments originated both in Europe and Asia. Not all of the large number of pieces checked by the bureau were passed inspection. About two million pieces were condemned on arrival in Michigan. The rigid inspection by the bureau's men led to a widespread spread of plant diseases and insect pests in this state.

"We feel," said Mr. Boyer, "that the Michigan buyer of plants and nursery stock is entitled to clean merchandise that will grow and give satisfaction. Up to now control over salesmen offering foreign stock was in question although we did have control through licensing of the nursery agent representing firms in the states."

Michigan is a great nursery stock buying state and Detroit is the top city in this. In Detroit alone there are more than 2,700 nursery stock vendors under license by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. For Michigan as a whole there are more than 6,800 licenses issued.

"Failure of a nurseryman, dealer or agent to meet with laws on nursery results in his license being revoked."

APPLY FERTILIZER ON GRAPES IN FALL, AUTHORITY URGES

Grapes can make more effective use of potash and phosphorus fertilizers if they are applied in the fall. Application now is recommended by Paul Larsen, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. Fall application of these two fertilizers allows them to move into the soil near to the roots so that in spring the plants can make quick use of them.

Potash and phosphorus fertilizers may be applied any time in the month of November or until the ground freezes, according to Larsen. The fertilizers should be applied broadcast so that the cover crops will benefit.

Where growth of vines has been normal or adequate, Larsen recommends using 0-10-30 or 3-8-27 or their equivalents. If there is a serious potash deficiency, Larsen says to use sulfate of potash until the condition is corrected and then follow with the normal recommended rates.

Nitrogen fertilizer should be applied to grapes in the spring, Larsen reminds growers.

PAMPHLET ON PACKAGE WRAPPING NOW AVAILABLE

Helpful facts about wrapping, taping and in a new illustrated pamphlet entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing," available free at all post offices.

The pamphlet, an excerpt from the Postal Manual, describes the types and sizes of cartons best suited for outer and inner shipping containers. It gives details for the internal protection for goods being shipped and lists hints on wrapping chinaware, stoneware, framed pictures, books, and other goods. The pamphlet gives instructions for marking various types of parcels to insure the quickest possible delivery.

Written instructions are highlighted by numerous illustrations showing how to wrap and tie packages securely. Drawings of various types of containers and boxes and the best way to use protective material to guard goods against breakage are also used.

This free pamphlet, if used in conjunction with the Department's free pamphlet entitled "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees" which gives instructions for marking packages, should answer practically all questions any user of the mails might have on fees, rates, special services, and protection of parcels in transit.

Postmaster General Summerfield emphasized that much of the delay in delivery of parcels, particularly at Christmas, and most of the damage envelope is due to lack of knowledge of basic rules to follow in mailing packages.

ADD A RICE OF COLOR and a wealth of good eating at reasonable cost. Fresh green cabbage, eggplant, and potatoes are other locally-grown vegetables in good supply and of good quality. Michigan potatoes are priced more favorably than those shipped from other states. Sweet potatoes are of better quality and priced lower than last year - at about 10 cents per pound.

Apples, cider and Tokay grapes are bell ringer fruit buys. The peak of the apple harvest during October has provided many varieties of apples at prices lower than at any other month during the year. Jonathan, McIntosh, Wealthy, Graggling, and Cortland are around ten cents per pound with Delicious varieties about 20 to 23 cents. Served hot or cold, refreshing apple cider at about 60 to 70 cents a gallon is perfect for the season. Tokay grapes still hold the limelight in fruit economy with many stores offering them at 10 to 15 cents a pound. A larger than usual cranberry crop has resulted in quantity supplies at reasonable prices early in the season. Shipments of grapefruit are increasing. Even though size is good, shoppers can expect more tart flavor than later when the fruit is fully ripe.
