The "open house" held at the Neighborhood Church on Halloween was considered a big success. A large number of adults, boys and girls dropped in to sit, rest a while, warm themselves, and visit. At one time several young people marched in, under the leadership of one of the mothers, and sang "The Bible Tells Me So." All visitors were treated to home made squares of gingerbread.

A novelty in the way of beggars on Halloween was a trio of young women, scarcely in their teens, who made the rounds on horseback. One woman, summoned to the door by the familiar "Help the poor" cry, declared she was more startled at the sight looming up in front of her than if witches on broomsticks had appeared.

PAMPHLET OFFERS TIPS FOR SETTLING CHILD PROBLEMS

Nerves kind of shaky because your children are always battling? A sensible, unemotional approach to a problem which is common to most families the country over is presented in a University of Michigan Extension Service pamphlet entitled, "So Your Kids Fuss and Fight," offered at five cents per copy.

Planned to help the parent get a sane perspective of the matter of quarrelling, the pamphlet contains some of the reasons for quarrelling and squabbling, a look at the kinds of scrapping and fussing that is going on, and ways in which parents have successfully handled the problem.

Other pamphlets for parents or parent groups available at the Extension Service are the magazine "Parents Exchange" for ten cents, which in its coming issue tells how one family handled the crisis that arose when the 17-year old son asserted his right to be treated as a young adult; "When There's Work To Do," for five cents; "When Your Good Child Seems Bad," for five cents; "Our Children and Sex," for twenty cents.

Leaflets may be ordered from the University of Michigan Extension Service, 4525 Administration Building, Ann Arbor.

HEATING PLANTS

Every day there are 1,000 home fires in the United States, and 250 are caused by failure to keep home heating apparatus properly used and repaired. Experts advise a thorough check of all such equipment at least once a year so that it can be properly cleaned, repaired, and kept in fire-safe condition.

Three per cent of our population (approximately 4,800,000) are mentally retarded. Three hundred new cases are being added each day, based on the current U. S. birth rate.

Whitman's Works To Be Displayed

The directors of the Farmington Friends of the Library announced to its membership and to the Farmington community their success in bringing Charles E. Feinberg and his Walt Whitman Collection to Farmington.

Arrangements are now being made for a public showing of this famous collection on November 28 and 29 in the library of the Farmington Senior High School.

On the evening of November 29, beginning at 8:00 p.m., Mr. Feinberg, who is one of the nation's foremost Whitman authorities, will give a talk which will be open to the public, on his experiences in making the collection and in exhibiting them. Mr. Feinberg has been collecting the material for more than 30 years, and holds the distinction of having been invited and to have officially opened the Whitman Exhibition at the Library of Congress in Washington in January of this year.

This is indeed a rare privilege and an outstanding cultural opportunity for the community of Farmington, and the Friends of the Library invite everyone to attend.

Rickey Posner of Farmington Road is ill with a throat infection.

Mrs. Eckman of Farmington Road is reported much "under the weather."

Mrs. Christena Rehahn of Mayfield Avenue is reported on the sick list.

Mrs. E. W. Stange of Mayfield Avenue reports that her granddaughter, Barbara Judd, recently reported critically ill, is now somewhat improved. However, Barbara's sister, Loretta, has been taken dangerously ill and is being cared for in Herman Keifer Hospital.

Goodwill Industries of Detroit made their monthly collection of discarded clothing from this community on Monday, October 31. Perhaps many people were holding on to discarded clothing until Halloween costumes had been contrived and worn. At any rate response to the pick-up was rather disappointing. The next collection will be on Monday, November 28. Call GR. 4-4294 to arrange for a pick-up.

For '56 New Sweep-ahead styling New Sizzle to match

The 1956 Buick SUITE 4-Door Riviera

Best Buick yet

SEE JACKIE GLEASON ON TV Every Saturday Evening

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

WHAT YOU SEE pictured here is Buick for 1956—and from the gleam of that "V" grille to the sassy slant of the tail fins, you can see it has no equal for gorgeous good looks.

But what you see from the curb is more than matched by what you feel at the wheel—and that's gospel.

For this Buick gets its zoom from a mighty 322-cubic-inch V8 engine lofted to a new record high in power and compression—and from a spectacular new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

What's new in the '56 Dynaflow is this: in the first inch of pedal travel—and not with wide-open throttle—your Buick moves from standstill to cruise with silk-smooth, instant and certain getaway.

But comes a sudden need for safety-surge action to get out of a tight spot—and you floor the pedal to switch the pitch of this airplane-inspired transmission. Instantly and smoothly, you're at full-power acceleration—a thrill beyond words.

There's a lot more we could tell you about these great new Buicks—about brilliant new interiors, a superb new ride with a safer "sense of direction," and new safety features everywhere you look.

But the best way to get the whole story of the best Buick yet is right at the wheel of one of these '56 beauties. So drop in this week and do just that.
