Farmington High News

Material for this column is prepared by Members of the Farmington High School Journalism Class

CHIEF TOPIC of conversation and discussion these days in the government classes at Farmington High School is Student Government Day, when officers in the City of Farmington will be taken over by elected seniors from the high school. Originally planned for Monday, November 21, the program has been postponed until December 5 because of a conflict in dates. Shown above is a small group of students in one of the high school government classes, going over the details of the duties of various officials. They are, left to right, Glen Warner, Roberta Spaller, Don Yordy, Joanne Auger and Louis Gilde-meister.

Teacher-Student Committee Picked To Tackle Problem Of Student Dress

One of the most talked about problems of Farmington Senior High is student dress. It is debatable as to whether the school should say if jeans, levis, Bermuda and slacks should be permitted to be worn by girls. A committee of four teachers and three students has been chosen to tackle the problem. The teachers are Mr. Clayton Graham, Mrs. Wilma McCreight, Miss Ruth Kirchner, and Miss Sada Blain. Rodney Layton, Betty McNatt, and Sharon Hosler are the Student Council members chosen to meet with the teachers. A second meeting to discuss the Student Council questionnaire of last week was held Tuesday. The majority of the seniors feel that a student's apparel is important, and therefore pride should be taken in the clothes worn. Not one of it is a problem as to whether the school should step in and voice its opinion, but alas, "Where should the line be drawn?" It is the general opinion that slacks should be permissible but

Seniors Complete Preparations For Annual Class Play

The Senior cast of "Swing Fever" will step before the footlights tomorrow night to present the first of a two-night stand of their annual class play. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m. sharp. There will be no reserved seats. The three-act comedy involves the family of a dean at a co-educational college, Mr. Jonathan Norris. The dean becomes entangled in the antics of his swing-happy teenage son, Alexander. How the dean almost loses his job and gets a Hollywood dance contract instead of his son, who deserves it, forms the basis of the plot. The part of the lusty dean is played by Guy Hower, and the part of the distracting son is played by Bill Fulton. A dress rehearsal of the play took place on Sunday, November 6, with the cast in full costume and make-up. Tickets were put on sale Wednesday, November 2, and will be sold at the door. Since the new gym is not equipped to be used for a dramatic production, the Seniors will present their play in the Junior High auditorium as the previous classes have done.

Alumni News

Rita Pierson, Class of '51, is now teaching physical education at Walled Lake High School. June Turner, class of '53, and MSU junior, will be the first girl referee to report on the Michigan State hockey games. June, along with Sue Runde, Class of '54, and Sylvia Garley, Class of '55, are majoring in Journalism at MSU. Miss Turner was editor of the Phoenix during its last year of existence at Farmington Senior High School. Miss Runde was the business manager during her senior year, and Miss Garley was the assignment editor of the Blue and White last year. Joanne De Nies, Class of '53, is a junior at the University of Detroit. She is also majoring in Journalism. Jim and Charlotte (Mathews) Yault, Class of '51, were presented with a baby girl last month.

Girls Organize Bowling League

The 1955-56 girls' bowling team held its first meeting last Thursday at the Farmington Recreation bowling alleys. Pamela Chapman was elected president; Linda Clark, secretary; and Carol Head, treasurer. Six teams were organized and captains were elected for each. The captains are as follows: Mary Durfee, Sandra Hart, Mary Fawcett, Janet Cervin, Yvonne Mansou, and Eddie Ann Fawcett. Each week two teams compete by playing three games, and all the bowlers' scores are averaged for each game to determine the winner. Miss Stang, American history teacher, is this year's advisor.

SOPHS TO SPONSOR PRE-THANKSGIVING DANCE NOVEMBER 18

The Sophomore Class will sponsor a dance Friday, November 18. In keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit, the dance is named the "Cornucopia Fiesta." The chairman of the committees were selected too late to be published. The advisors are: advertising, Mr. Peace; tickets, Mr. Lee S. Peet; cleanup, Miss Mary Wilcox; decorations, Miss Ruth Bailey; and refreshments, Mr. Ray McCreight.

G.A.A. Takes Part In Volleyball Playday

Volunteer G. A. A. girls visited Ferndale High School Tuesday, November 1, for a volleyball play day. The Farmington girls were divided into two teams, each playing two games. The results were three losses and one win. Refreshments were served following the games. Farmington has invited Ferndale's volleyball club here in the near future.
