Local Elks Lodge Installation Set

Preparations are being completed for the installation of officers for Elks Lodge 1958, Farmington, to be held at Royal Oak on December 18. Members of the newly formed chapter are brushing up on ritual ceremonies and learning acceptance speeches.

Arrangements have been completed to provide bus transportation for persons wishing to attend the ceremony. Buses will leave Farmington at 12:15 p.m.

The board of trustees, governing body on the local level, will be installed along with other elected officials. Board members include: James O. Tennant, five years; Tony Hensley, four years; William Dobs, three years; Robert Becker, two years; and George Brodie, one year.

The function and goal of the Elks, local officials state, varies little from any other fraternal order. On a national and local level the Elks are interested in Baseball for Boys, National Youth Society, March of Dimes, Red Cross, Veteran Hospital work and many other projects, officials stated.

At the November meeting of the local Elks, an altar piece of mounted antlers, symbol of all Elksdom, was presented to the group by Harvey Madigan, loyal knight. Leading Knight Al Tilton accepted the altar piece in the absence of Exalted Ruler Buttermore.

GOODFELLOWS selling papers on the streets of Farmington all day last Friday, despite the snappy cold spell, welcomed the warmth of the Municipal Building, where they turned in their donations. Two Goodfellows are pictured above turning in their collections and warming up a little after their stints on the street. Shown in the photo, left to right, are Mrs. Joseph DeVriendt and Mrs. Fred Menke, taking collections from Henry Mahaney and Earl Vivier. Mrs. Fred Schaeffer also helped Mrs. DeVriendt and Mrs. Menke in taking collections as they were turned in at the Municipal Building.
