

ADULT BASKETBALL LEAGUE SCHEDULE BEGINS JANUARY 3

The adult basketball program, being sponsored by the Farmington Recreation Commission, will get under way on Tuesday, January 3, at 7 p.m. in the Junior High School gymnasium, Director Warren Piche announced this week.

A total of four teams will participate in the program. Team captains are requested to list the names of the players and turn them in to the supervisor. Piche stated that efforts will be made to balance the teams so that no single unit will have a major advantage. Any man who is not presently assigned to a team may register by reporting to the gym on January 3.

It is requested that all players furnish their own gym equipment.

New Township Codes Published

The text of the newly enacted Township Building Code and Gas and Oil Burner Ordinance are being published this week in accordance with law, and will become effective within 30 days of publication.

The Building Code adopts by reference the 1955 Edition of the Abridged Building Code compiled by the Building Officials Conference of America, Inc. It provides for the establishment of a Department of Buildings and Building Safety consisting of the Building Inspector, the Gas and Oil Burner Inspector, the Electrical Inspector, one member of the Fire Department, and the Township Supervisor. It also provides for the creation of a Board of Appeals.

The Gas and Oil Burner Ordinance adopts by reference the City of Detroit Code. The ordinance stipulates the appointment of a Gas and Oil Burner Inspector and provides for the creation of a Board of Appeals and a Board of Examiners. The inspector is charged with the responsibility of examining gas and oil burner installation and of enforcing the provisions of the ordinance. It also provides for the licensing of gas and oil burner installers.

BUSY TIMES were experienced by all at the Farmington Post Office during the Christmas rush and a major portion of it was caused by the record flow of Christmas cards and packages which passed through post hands. The left above is a crew of part-time postal helpers engaged in sorting mail. That their work has been cut out for them for most of the day can be attested to by the large pile of letters and cards behind them, right in photo, yet to be sorted. This picture was snapped last Friday during the heaviest of the mailing rush period.

C.H.S. Class Takes All-Day Field Trip To State Hospital

Clarenceville's Personal and Family Living Class and their instructor, Mrs. Mummary, took an all-day field trip to Northville State Hospital on December 13.

The group was used as a pilot study group by the Social Service staff of the hospital. This was the first time any high school group has had the opportunity to participate in the program.

The twenty-six senior girls and boys participating were divided into eight groups consisting of three and four in each group.

A program worked out by the Social Service Department at the hospital enabled the small groups to visit, observe and comment on many hospital areas.

After the group work, the class members and personnel from the hospital conducted a summary of the day's activities and a question and answer period.

Members of the senior Personal and Family Living class were complimented by Mr. R. Byrnum, psychologist, and Mr. A. Erickson, psychiatric Social Service director, for their excellent cooperation, interest and personal conduct at the hospital.

The students who participated unanimously agreed that this was a most educational and enjoyable experience.

C. H. S. Host For League Student Council Meeting

The Wayne Oakland County League Student Council meeting was held at 7:30 p.m. December 15 at Clarenceville High School with representatives from Holly, Milford, Northville, Clarkston, Brighton, West Bloomfield and Clarenceville in attendance.

Two of the topics brought up were "improving sportsmanship at games" and "improving school dances."

After the meeting, assorted sweet rolls and milk were served to the representatives by the Clarenceville Student Council.

Junior Class Students Presented With Rings

The junior class held a class meeting on December 13 in the school cafeteria.

The purpose of the meeting was to distribute class rings. Those who did not have the balance of the money owed on their rings received them on Friday, December 16, from Mr. Robert Dewsbury, a representative of the Joston Company.

SENIORS

Recently the seniors of Clarenceville High School received their pictures from the Powell Studio. Next week they will be wearing their commencement gowns for graduation.

Here's a holiday centerpiece idea that you can use over and over again this winter.

For a festive winter skating scene, all you need is a string of Christmas lights, a shallow box, pipe cleaners, and scraps of colored cloth.

Lighting specialists suggest that you follow these simple steps for your own lighted skating scene. Use a shallow box, about 9x12 inches, lined with asbestos to protect your table top. Then, arrange a string of white Christmas lights in the box, taping them firmly so that the bulbs do not contact the box.

For the "lid," use a 9 x 12 piece of opal glass or some equally translucent material. Blank the edges of the box with spun glass or angel hair to simulate snow.

Then, fashion lively skating figures from pipe cleaners. Dress them in bright bits of wool or yarn from your scrapbag. Place them on their "pond" and surround with a half dozen miniature artificial trees.

There's nothing new about a village under your Christmas tree, but when it's done with imagination it can please members of all generations.

Lighting people suggest that you reserve one string of your Christmas lights for this job.

Use yellow bulbs for a warm glow inside the village houses, blue for the church and one white bulb attached to a lower branch to represent the Christmas Star.

Keeping time for cold storage or deep-frozen foods can be increased three to six times by the addition of certain "harmless" drugs.

Left-over turkey is usually one of the holiday problems, but by using your imagination, you might wish there was more turkey to use in left-over dishes.

Grace Masuda, instructor in institution administration at Michigan State University, offers several suggestions in addition to the favorite cold sliced turkey sandwich and turkey ala king. For extra good flavor, you might like to try turkey salad with sliced almost-boiled turkey chow mein, cream of turkey soup or turkey croquettes.

An easy-to-make casserole dish, which Miss Masuda likes to serve, is turkey tetrazzini. She lists the ingredients as:

6 oz. spaghetti, 1 cup turkey fat, 1 bouillon cube, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 2 cups milk, 1 cup diced turkey, 1 cup sliced mushrooms and 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese.

While the spaghetti is cooking, melt the bouillon cube in the turkey fat in the top of a double boiler. Stir in flour, salt and celery salt. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Blend well and add the drained spaghetti, turkey and mushrooms. Pour into a one and one half quart casserole, and sprinkle the top with grated Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees F. for about 20 minutes. This six servings.

Add glamour to your Christmas tree lights by backing them with reflectors of pleated household foil. Cut circles of aluminum kitchen foil with small openings for the sockets. Crush or pleat the reflectors and decorate with self-sticking tape.
