The Question Of Water . . .

has once again popped up in the headlines. We say 'question' because there are many unanswered phases of this growing problem which must be determined before a constructive solution can be found.

before a constructive solution can be found.

The latest problem reaching the headlines involves both the City and Township. According to a group of Township residents the new city wells are to blame for a sudden drop in their individual water supplies. It is not our intention at this point to debate the question. The answer must be reserved for experts who are familiar with the characteristics of intention and murth. However, this latest question. water source and supply. However, this latest ques-ion points up more graphically than ever the growing problem which we all are faced with.

It is obvious, even to the layman, that we in this trea must turn to water sources other than ground area must turn to water sources other than ground supply. The heavy increase in population plus a def-inite drop in the ground water level, makes it impera-tive for us to act. Individual ground wells may pro-jude temporary relief but they are far from a peyma-nent answer.

Our greatest hope for a solution to the problem is through the support and encouragement of the Southeast Michigan Inter-County Committee which is is through the support and encouragement of the Southeast Michigan Inter-County Committee which is presently engaged in a preliminary study of the water question. The securing of water from the Great Lakes and transporting it by trunk line mains to the individual communities is a major undertaking. It can not be done by any single municipality. Thus we must rely on the cooperation of many communities and counties if we are to findle permanent solution.

It is obvious that this realization will not be achieved overnight. A great deal of study and planning must be expended before a practical program of action can be adopted. It is our opinion that a factual outline of what is happening in the Farmington community along with resolutions of encouragement from the Township Board and City Council to the Inter-County Committee would help to speed-up the planning phase of this program. We certainly have a story to tell and it should be told where it will do the most good.

Last Thursday . . .

evening between 7:00 and 7:30, we witnessed two cars just east of the business district on Grand River trav-eling abreast at approximately 65 to 70 miles an hour. Even standing on the sidewalk, it was a spine-chilling experience.

Unfortunately they were traveling at such a rate experience.

Unfortunately they were traveling at such a rate of speed that it was impossible to get their license numbers. And then we wonder why the death and injury toll is so high on our streets and highways? If you live anywhere in the vicinity of Grand River, you know that this is far from an isolated case. It is a miracle that as few accidents happen as they do.

When you witness scenes such as the one last Thursday and think of what could happen, talk about "speed traps" and vigorous enforcement seems pretty flat. In times of epidemic, when hundreds of lives are being affected, we take drastic measures to fight the scourge. We band together in a common cause and we use every means at our disposal to fight back. But what about the rising toll of auto fatalities? When we get a traffic violation ticket we start screaming, even though that ticket may have saved our life. It is obvious that the police can not be everywhere at once. If it was possible to have a patrol car in every block there would be few violations. But of course this is not feasible non-should it be necessary. A certain amount of responsibility must be shared by the individual driver if he is to live and let others live. Yet, as long as that responsibility is lacking there is a need for enforcement. Thus it becomes essential that every citizen support the police and the courts in a vigorous law enforcement program.

We wouldn't pussy-foot around the bush if a ty-

FAR REACHING EFFECTS can be expected by Michigan taxpayers from a state authorized survey of present college facilities.
This study is to provide a sound basis for future legislation in higher education. It will help legislatory decide how to aid existing colleges. It will indicate how many more colleges are needed to meet the demands of increasing enrollment. According to Senator Don Vander Wery (R-Fremont), chairman of an interin joint legislation committee, the study will coordinate the needs of all areas of the state.

Expansion of present college facilities will be held down until the results of the survey are in sometime in 1958. Many members of the 1956 iegislature opposed a new state medical school and off compus branches of Michigan State University until the overall needs of the state's students can be ascertained.

Greumstances are more crucial in some states than others according to Dr. Russell. He has made studies similar to the only under way here in Ohio, Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, Idaho and Alabama.

"The one thing we have found to be general in all staties," Dr. Russell said, "is that teathing sales are low and that there sale big deficiencies in educational needs."

Growth of enrollment in colleg-es during the next 15 years will be tremendous. In the Ohio study just completed by Dr. Ritssell, he found that Ohio State University needs to expand from its present enrollment of 21,000 to 3 thout 80,000 students unless "something" is derected.

In 1945 the dommunists controlled only 10 per cent of the world's population. Today they control more than 40 per cent. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO (July 2, 1931)

Jithey Permit
A decision is expected soon by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission on the application of Troy Alverson of Redford Township for permission to operate a jitney bus line on Grand River Avenue between Farmington and Five Points. A hearing was held on the application last week at which time Alverson presented his plans for operation as well as a number of petitions from residents in the area requesting such service. At the present time, the Eastern Michigan Railway is offering bus service along the routel to replace the service formerly provided by the Grand River Trolley. After a short period when smaller bases were used, the Eastern Michigan Company has returned to operation of the larger buses which were in use when service began.

Belief that depositors of the Farmington State Savings Bank will ultimately recover 100 cents on the dollar of their deposits was expressed their appreciation to the people of Farmington and the service began of the farmington and vicinity
for their loyalty and cooperation during these critical times.

Summer Recreation

A record registration of $90 youngsters was reported Monday as the Farmington summer recreation program got under way at four playgrounds in the School District. William Nuss, director of the program, stated that registrations at all the playgrounds were higher than last year and that Farmington City's playground topped the list. More registrations are expected to come in during the fest of the week and the beginning of next week, he added. Seen playground supervisors were hired this year to handle children taking part in the program. A variety of activities at the playgrounds, swimming and field trips are planned.
