F.H.S. Class Of '36 Reunion Success

After a rainy morning Sunday the skies cleared in the afternoon for a reunion of the Farmington High graduating class of 1936 and a picnic in the afternoon at City Park.

A total of 31 from the class were on hand for the reunion along with their husbands and wives and children; an average of three children apiece. Among those present were Mr. J. D. Burn, superintendent in 1936, and Mrs. R. Burns, wife of the school principal during that time. Mr. Burns was unable to attend because of previous commitment. Members of the class living outside the Detroit and Farmington areas in attendance came from Clare, South Haven, Plymouth, Walled Lake, Carsonville and Birmingham.

After a period of hearing "you are fatter, you're thinner, you're gray, you look the same, who are you," etc., all sat down to a picnic lunch. The lunch was followed by a baseball game with dads and sons, pitching horse shoes and conversation.

Movie and still cameras were clicking throughout the afternoon.

Arrangements for the reunion considered highly successful, were made by Mary Howell Rittenberg, Yvonne Brooks Campbell, Harriet Sponenburgh Gibbins, Helen Spence, Marguerite Winfield, Tudball Craig, Madeleine Brooks and Elsie Nelson Klak.
