

Along The Creek In Woodcreek

ELEANOR M. PREUSS MA. 6-6361

Robert and Ginny Swift of Westbrook have returned from a three-weeks' vacation. Included were a trip on the "City of Los Angeles" Vista-dome train to Salt Lake City, a bus trip to the Grand Canyon, Zion and Cedar Breaks, and three days in Los Angeles. They visited Disneyland on the day the new sky ride was opened, which is composed of pastel-colored two-seater cable cars which travel from Fantasyland to the Land of Tomorrow.

In Glendale, California, they visited the great collection of art and religious objects on display at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Their favorite spot in San Francisco, where they spent four days, was atop the Mark Hopkins Hotel, giving them a view of the city including nearby Alcatraz and the naval base at Treasure Island. They took a boat trip to get a close-up view of the islands, crossed over the Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge, and visited the aquarium, museum, Japanese Tea Garden and Chinatown.

They visited the many falls at Yosemite, which are formed by melting snow. The falls stop almost completely in August. They were delighted with the Ribbon Falls and Firefalls.

Ginny stated that she found the drive through Inga Pass on the way to Lake Tahoe very frightening when looking down 12,000 feet on one side of the car. They admired the 3,000 year old California Redwood trees and after driving up the coast to San Francisco, they were able to see all of the Fourth of July celebrations over the whole city.

They returned home by way of Denver and the Rockies on the California Zephyr Vista-Dome.

Bath Scott, son of the Bill Scotts of Wellington, had his fill of swimming on a vacation trip. Mom Mary reports he had his bathing suit on four and five times a day as they tried to stop at every available pool on the way to California and back. The three drove to Yellowstone, stayed a while at Jackson Lake Lodge, Salt Lake City and Las Vegas.

In Long Beach, California, they enjoyed visits with Bill's sisters, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. J. N. Hutton, and Mrs. Irvin Vawter.

In Los Angeles they found the Farmers' Market exciting, and the food in "Bit of Sweden" tasty enough for an epicure.

When Bill had to fly home to attend to his business, Mary and Bath, driving back, ran into a wild sand storm near Albuquerque, New Mexico.

BLUEBERRIES

In many Detroit area stores blueberries are now taking the lead of fresh summer fruits.

Consumer Marketing Agents say blueberries are less perishable than many types of berries for they stand up under handling. The whitish dust or "bloom" is desirable, for it means the berries have had a minimum of handling.

Blueberries are good in a fresh berry pie or a fruit cup. Try them topped with a spoonful of sour sweetened or regular cream.
