A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

For proof of this statement read the following letters:

Mrs. Barbara J. Bass, of Klamath, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and I was told that no operation was my only hoped-for recovery. I wrote to you for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Morestown, N. J., writes: "I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write to her at Lowell, Mass. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Before Thanksgiving Day

Over the country-side
The turkey struts with pride,
And seems to say:
"How nobly I adorn
This smiling autumn morn
So blithe and gay!"

But he'll adorn a plate
When we shall celebrate
Thanksgiving day.

A TURKEYLESS THANKSGIVING

The Story of the Three Birds That Were Three Times Won and Lost.

WHEN the railroad builders invaded the great north-west, not seeking a passage to the Pacific coast but rather anticipating the development of an agricultural empire which must have arteries of steel, they were quickly followed by the same class of early settlers that had moved westward since the early days. Through the generations that movement has proceeded, slowly at first but ever increasing in speed and volume. Over the Alleghenies, across the woodland and meadow stretches of Ohio and Indiana, across the prairies of Illinois and Iowa, through the Wisconsin and Minnesota forests to the valleys of Dakota and on to Puget sound. The descendants of New Englanders have all been noticeable in the advancing tide of home makers and fortune hunters along these parallels of latitude.

Thanksgiving day as an annual New England celebration marked by family reunions and feasting is one of the few things that have persisted among transplanted New England customs. It is now a national event, most generally honored. And the distinctive feature of this feasting is the sacrifice of that royal fowl, the turkey. A Thanksgiving day without turkey is a church service without hymn, music, or benediction. There are makeshift substitutes of course, but pale for comparison with those not to the manner born, but the sons of the sons of New England realize their helplessness. Not one of these but would rather go through trials by fire and water rather than undergo the absence of that glorious half-poultry from the Thanksgiving board.

In the first years of the two great rival railroad companies were hastening to secure for themselves in eastern Dakota the rich fields of a traffic yet to come into being. Both had entered the wonderfully fertile James river valley from the east, and one hurried in the northward from Huron the other turned southward from Aberdeen, and the near approach of winter and the close of active operations found the two competing companies camped only a few miles apart. With the advance of the railroads a little preceding them had come settlers upon the government domain, and though farmers and wheat-raisers were in the van, such romantic and adventurous spirits as land agents and townsite boomers, traders and newspaper men could be discovered even more easily. Early in November work upon the railroad lines halted, and the builders retired to await the opening of spring. At the terminus of each road a little settlement had sprung up, less than a half-dozen structures marking the site of what was hoped to be and already was heralded as the metropolis of the valley.

Upon such a situation steadily but barely crept the Thursday which the president of the United States had chosen as the annual day of thanksgiving, and at the distance of only one short week the fact suddenly dawned upon the clustered intelligence of these two Dakota towns that there was not a turkey in the great Jim valley north of Sioux Falls, and that 80 miles of wind-swept prairie lay between a more hopeful field of possible supply at Waterville, west the Minnesota boundary. There is a material for the volume of adventure in the account of the two rival expeditions dispatched simultaneously yet with all secrecy on a journey of a hundred and sixty miles for fowl to furnish forth a Thanksgiving dinner, but this story must omit the details. One party returned hilariously successful. With the three turkeys that eloquence, strategy and money combined were able to procure in Waterville; the other, downcast, dejected, and pessimistic, came back empty-handed.

To emphasize their victory the successful town announced a prize turkey shoot (at which but in Redford's case were barred), a turkey dinner at the hotel, and a grand ball in the rail-appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, soothes and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without having any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

Truth and Quality

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Her Qualifications.
A prominent educator tells of a unique recommendation made by the board of examination with reference to certain questions put to a primary school in an Indiana town.

"I desire to recommend Mary Wilson also for a reward of merit," stated one of the board in a note appended to the report. "Being very young, Mary naturally missed the point of all the questions in the examination papers, but her answers were in every instance so lifelike and refined that I think she should be awarded a medal."—Harper's Monthly.

Hadherway.
The oldest named country home is in Jackson county, according to a Columbian who is a friend of the owner. The name as it appears at the front gate is "Hadherway," and never fails to attract attention from passersby. For years the wife wanted to leave Kansas City and go to a farm. When the family finally moved they named the home "Hadherway."—Columbia Herald.

RHEUMATISM PRESCRIPTION

The increased use of whiskey for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "One-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris' Compound and one ounce of Syrup Serravallo's Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

Toris' Compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it is as well as the other ingredients can be had from any good druggist.

Western Canada the Penial Winner

"The Last Best West"

The government of Canada now gives to every actual settler 160 acres of wheat-growing land free and an additional 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. The 300,000 confirmed American settlers making their homes in Western Canada is the best evidence of the superiority of that country. They are becoming rich, growing from 25 to 50 bushels wheat to the acre, 60 to 110 bushels oats and 45 to 50 bushels barley, besides having splendid herds of cattle raised on the prairie grass. Dairying is an important industry.

The crop of 1908 still keeps Western Canada in the lead. The world with good reason to it as its food producer.

"The thing which most impressed me was the magnitude of the country that is available for agricultural purposes."—National Agricultural Conference.
