

HEART ASSOCIATION URGES MODERATION IN ACTIVITIES WHILE ON VACATION

With vacation days here, the Michigan Heart Association issued its warning against over-exercising during the vacation period.

E. A. Irvin, M.D., of Dearborn, president of the Michigan Heart Association, said that too many people make the mistake of going back on rip-roaring vacations after sitting behind desks most of the year.

"Most vacations, from a physical standpoint, are strenuous," Dr. Irvin said, "with far too many people returning to work more tired and in poorer physical shape than when they left. This is especially true when a person's idea of having a wonderful time includes driving several hundred miles to get to a vacation spot, going in for unaccustomed and strenuous exercise, and staying up late at parties. No matter how much the individual enjoys it," Dr. Irvin continued, "such a vacation may actually do him considerable harm in terms of future health."

Hot weather makes extra demands on your heart. Your heart may pump harder and faster in order to send the blood through the circulatory system. When hot weather and vacations come, some self-restraint is needed regarding outdoor exercise, especially for middle-aged persons and those who ordinarily do not exercise much.

FALL COAT DESIGN TAKES SURPRISE SWITCH IN STYLE

Costs for fall and winter are heading for a new season of fashion interest. Surprise comes in the sudden switch to the ample silhouette, with fullness gathered easily from shallow shoulder sockets into draped unpressed vinyl pleat up the back, say women's wear experts. They refer to it as a fresh kind of casual greatcoat that is interpreted in polished town fabrics, as well as tweeds and fleeces.

Slim coats are still much in evidence, but the headlines go to the flat-fronted double-breasted straight unfitted coat. It gives the effect of a reefer, looks very new in its narrow, non-fit silhouette. Shown in tweeds as well as polished coatings, it rates among the trend setters.

Blossoming on narrow coat silhouettes are large drapable collars, shoulder spinning revers, shoulder capelet effects, and often impressive collars that do much to ornament columnar silhouettes.

Tweeds are everywhere. Their newest aspect in coats is in the elegant town dress, sometimes with fur trimming. Slim or with the new pleated collar, tweeds in black and white mixtures, or black and brown or new moss green, and high fashion endorsement of anarchy tones as well as solid black, tweeds lend their sturdiness to coats but with new all-day city wearability.

Fur trimmings look new again, for a sign of greater elegance and sabbie, mink, black beaver, white mink and beaver dyed in pastel colors are there to protect. Leopard trimmings on quality fleeces are numerous.

Beware of the man who talks about his diet instead of what he's doing.
