TRINITY EPISCOPAL church members bow in prayer during dedication services conducted last Sunday afternoon at the new church located in a wooded area at the end of LaMira Drive in Springland Subdivision. Standing in the middle of the altar with arm raised is the Right Reverend Richard S. Emrich, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, celebrating a service of Holy Communion in the new church building. The dedication service was preached by Reverend William S. Logan, III, Dean of the Westside Convocation and Rector of St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Redford. The new church, of contemporary style, has the altar located centrally allowing all of the congregation to be seated close to it. Among the church's many styling features are large expanses of clear glass looking out to sky and trees.

Along The Creek In Woodcreek

ELEANOR M. PREUSS

MA. 6-6361

The Woodcreek Farms Civic Association will meet at the M. E. Ilton home at 28850 Wellington Road Thursday night, October 25, at 8:00 p.m. Unforeseen difficulties have caused the general meeting of Section 12 to discuss the proposed Woodcreek Charter, to be postponed until further notice.

The annual meeting at Rosemont Hills will be held November 29.

George Sheriff of Millbrook, assistant manager of the Business Management department of the Mercury Sales division of Ford Motor Company, and wife, Ethel, left for Miami Beach, Florida, October 2.

They joined 2500 other home office personnel and dealers and their wives in attending the Mercury division showing at Dinner Key, Florida, October 6. Benson Ford and L. D. Cruse, executive vice president of Ford Motor Company, a Farmington resident, gave the closing address.

From the hotel the convention moved to Hialeah race track where cocktails and luncheon were served. Entertainment was provided by Jerry Colonna, dancing girls and other acts.

The other half of their ten day holiday was spent at Fort Lauderdale, where the Sheriffs celebrated their silver wedding anniversary October 12.

Pres and Joe Schlotterbeck attended the American Hardware Manufacturers Convention in New York and Atlantic City, October 4 to October 9. They also visited Jo's cousins, the C. H. Browns in Huntington, on the Long Island Sound, where Jo was thrilled with her first "close-up" of the ocean.

World Community Day will be observed at the Franklin Community Church Friday, November 2, from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m.

Miss Wilmina Rowland, assistant director at the Merrill Palmer School in Detroit, and author of "When We Pray," a book for young people, will speak on "Christians and Human Rights," based on the human rights program adopted by the United Nations.

At home for the day throughout the world will be peace. "Parcels for Peace" will be collected which will consist of good used men's and boys' clothing and blankets and sheets.

Volunteer workers scheduled for G.O.C. duty October 29 are as follows: 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Ruth Eynon and Beulah Kelly; 12 noon to 3 p.m., Bebe Downing and Edna Johnson; 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., Ruth Heikinen and Florence Richards. Incidentally, Bebe Downing has now spent more than 350 hours of G.O.C. duty. Ruth Heikinen spent about two years as a telephone operator, relaying post calls to Grand Rapids.

Woodcreek responded to the Red Cross Blood Bank appeal October 8 with generosity.

The telephone squad, headed by Marian Lam, included Dorothy Jansen, Vera Norwall, Beulah Kelly, Angie Sae, Barbara Reader, Betty Merochak and Florence Plevies. Donors included Mr. and Mrs. James Tenney, Angie Sae, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Plevies, Ruth Heikinen, Beulah Kelly, J. D. Downen, N. A. Thureson and Robert L. Weaver and son Robert H.

Helping at the bank was our own Red Cross gray lady, Betty Brown. Pints of blood were donated in the Southern Oakland Lower Lakes area, with 33 pints designated to the Bond-Eagle area.

Proud parents attending the Farmington Junior High open house, October 16, were the Norm Kreiders, Marian Lam and myself. Carole Kreider both ushered and participated in the gymnasium program, and Dick and Dale played in the band. It was the boys' first evening to wear their newly acquired uniforms, and the next evening was their first to play at a football game.

Marge Kreider helped serve the cider and doughnuts.

The Franklin Community Church is humming with activities designed to make their December 3 bazaar a success.

The Fellowship circle is holding a work meeting each Wednesday at the home of Elsie Kreider in Franklin, where Mary Kreider is helping June Becker make doll clothes, etc., for her doll booth.

The Friendly Circle met this Tuesday at the home of Grace Fisher for their weekly work meeting. Ruth Weaver is helping this group and Grace will be in charge of the pantry cupboard.

Andy Dwyda of Colony Hill Road, a member of the Birmingham Knights of Columbus, marched in their parade Columbus Day, honoring their patron saint. Marching down Woodward Avenue to St. Aloysius Church where they attended Mass, they continued to the foot of Washington Blvd. where Governor Williams and Mayor Cole spoke.

Zella Missal of Valley Drive plans on entertaining her many Woodcreek girl friends in small intimate groups this year, rather than having one huge party.

On her first list were Doty Spillman, Mary McGuire, Mary Tyng, Marian Lam, Alice Billu, Edythe Kennedy and Aileen Dornan, who accompanied her to a luncheon and fashion show by Milne at the Birmingham Century Club last Wednesday, October 17.

Paul and Anne Phillips of Millbrook treated seven friends, including the Frank Trippensees and Verne Fishers from Woodcreek, to a buffet supper October 16. Later they attended a benefit performance, sponsored by seven eastern colleges at the Ford Memorial Auditorium.

Eleanor Quatt reports birthday week has come and gone at her home.

George celebrated his sixth birthday October 17 with Billy, Susie and Zicky Reader, Mike Dornan, Denise Kreider, Jimmy McGuire and Doug Lam. Ellen celebrated her fifth birthday October 10 with Susie Reader, Claudia McDonald, Denise Kreider and Kathleen Labelle from the Knolls, Games, prizes, hamburgers, french fries, cake and ice cream were enjoyed.

Kyle McCarthy celebrated her seventh birthday in advance by sharing a beautiful cake with Woodcreek Brownies Linda Lang, Pam Weedon, my daughter, Peggy, and other new Brownie friends at our home this Tuesday morning.

Cathy Love brought along twelve pumpkins which the girls carved with Ruth McCarthy and yours truly supervising.

Other activities this month included two hikes, one to the Franklin Elder Hill, and one around Holy Lake.

Boy Scouts Dick Lam and Carter Billu, sons of the Conrad Lam and Everett Billus respectively, planned their own menus; bought their own food, cooked it and liked it, on their weekend camping trip with Troop No. 48, starting October 12. Voted most fun was the visit to Haven Hill Lodge, a teachers' retreat in the Highland recreation area, and exploring the nature trails around same.

State Attorney General
To Attend Local Dance

The Farmington Democrat Club announced this week that Thomas M. Kavanaugh, attorney general of the State of Michigan, will be guest of honor at their Harvest Dance to be held Friday evening, October 26, at Gramer's Hall, Inkster Road and Eleven Mile.

The public is cordially invited to attend the dance. Refreshments will be served.

Final fall enrollment at Michigan State University totals 20,250 students in credit courses. Of these, 18,200 are studying on the main campus in East Lansing and at residence centers, while the additional 1,050 are enrolled in the communities. University officials said.

Aileen Dornan, of 28890 Wellington, in charge of the United Fund and Community Chest drive in Woodcreek, indicated that she would appreciate it if neighbors would get their contributions to her before the end of this month.
