Two Cock Pheasants Visit State Capitol
Two cock pheasants were seen in downtown Lansing recently, about 200 yards from the front steps of the state Capitol.
Victor S. Janson, who coincidentally took charge of the Conservation Department's pheasant research program on the following day, reported seeing the two wild birds, thoroughly surrounded by concrete and civilization.
The nearest, and only, grass within shooting distance was the Capitol lawn and the birds were obviously not headed that direction. One flew up and perched on the hotel Ventworth's marquee sign, the other sailed across the corner toward the Grand River, 50 feet from the hotel.
Apple pie has an unusually good flavor when a dash of fennel seed is added to it. Fennel seed is a small fruit with an aromatic sweet taste somewhat like anise, and is used in sweet pickles, sausage, boiled fish, pastries, candies and liquors.

KITCHEN KNIVES
Every kitchen needs at least two knives to start with: a paring knife and a general-purpose slicer or carver. Paring knives have blades of different shapes and lengths—usually two and one-half to three inches. Choice depends on the preference of the user. In both carving and general-purpose slicing knives, the seven-to-nine inch blades are comparatively straight or edge curves to a point—which is good for cutting around bones.
