Men's Shirt Collar Should Be Selected With Care

Just as a blouse neckline should flatter the face of the girl wearing it, so should the style of the shirt collar flatter a man, say experts. Sharp-pointed collars with little spread lengthen the face while spread collars with short round points help fill out a thin face. Long collar points on low-cut collars are best for a man with a short, thick neck and a higher collar flatters a man with a thin neck and face.

Good Newspaper Ads Pay, Authority Claims

"At the retail level, nothing sells like newspaper advertising if the product has newsworthiness, is priced right, and if in-store promotion follows through." That statement was made by a Philadelphia advertising man, speaking at a sales forum. He gave the example of one of his clients, who gained $8 million in retail sales over a three-month period for an advertising expenditure of less than $100,000. He added: "The real payoff of this promotion came as the result of newspaper advertising."

The other and newer media have their place—but they can't supplant the newspaper. That goes for the papers in the little towns no less than those in the great cities.
