Costs of the Juniors' three one-act plays are now polishing their performances for their opening night, only one week away. Two comedies, "Mr. Sycamore" and "Nobody Sleeps," and a drama, "The Valiant," will be presented on Friday and Saturday, March 22-23, in the high school cafeteria. Jack McGee plays the lead in "Mr. Sycamore," the first play to be presented each evening. This light-hearted play is based on a story about a Mr. John Gwilt, a postman bored with his job, who decides to change himself into a tree. The technical difficulties in changing Jack McGee into a tree during the play have been surmounted. Supporting characters in this cast are: Alayne Celenski, Ron Morrison, Virginia Landacre, Ed Fulton, and John Cox.

Several Take Part In Music Festivals

Farmington High was well represented in the two recent Michigan School Vocal Association festivals, both in participating and officiating capacities. Eight soloists and the Falconnaires entered the Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Pontiac High School in Pontiac on Saturday, March 9. The entrants, their selections and the ratings they received follow: Deanna Dufault and Marjorie Lam received a superior rating for their piano solos titled, "It's Raining" and "Valley D" respectively. Karen Scheffer received a rating of good for her piano rendition of "Deep Purple." Janice Andrews received a superior rating for her vocal solo titled, "Spring in Danceland." Carol Robinson and Sandra Peterson's vocal selections "I'll Tell You the Way of Wonderful" and "Into the Woods Went My Master," respectively, won them excellent ratings. Elaine Hanson also received a superior rating for her solo rendition of "My Hero." "Because" sung by Nancy Lind was rated good by the judges. The Falconnaires received a rating of good for their two selections, "We Thank Thee Lord" and "The Finding Pot." The latter is from Gull's "The Holy City" which is the Cantata being presented this coming March 26. The combined fourth and fifth year Girls' Glee Clubs entered the Choral and Glee Club Festival held at Dondora Senior High in Royal Oak on Tuesday, March 12 and came home with an excellent rating. "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn and "Snow Legend" by Gloke were the two numbers which they sang. Seven Farmington girls served in official capacities. They assisted the judges by handling music and having the groups ready for their appearances at the proper times. The girls were Catherine Robertson, Jana Brown, Lois Leach, Carol Kinsman, Karen Scheffer, Karen Senob, and Mary Ann Miller. The girls were highly commended by the judges for their work.

Permanent Policy On Senior Exams Being Studied

The Faculty Committee on Final Examinations for Seniors has held two meetings to determine a permanent policy concerning finals. Each year it has been necessary for a committee to meet, report to the faculty, and then take part of the entire faculty to determine whether Seniors must take exams. This year's committee will propose a permanent plan to be voted upon. However, the plan would not necessarily effect the Class of '57. A separate decision may be handed down to affect this year's graduating class.

A survey of the examination policies in schools in the surrounding area has been taken by Mr. Harold Humble, assistant principal and chairman of the committee. Of the eight schools studied, only one, Walled Lake High, allows Seniors to graduate without final examinations. Several schools give separate exams to Seniors a week or two before graduation. The Seniors are then finished with school, usually after they return from their Senior Trip. The remaining schools surveyed give final examinations to the entire student body.

The faculty committee members are: Mr. Harold Humble, chairman, Miss Mary Bastianelli, Miss Estelle Stang, Mr. Theodore Bielecki, Mr. Tarmo Maatfala, and Mr. Thomas Peace. D.G.

Win Top School Paper Honors

The Blue and White, Farmington High student newspaper, has again won a first place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association national competition. It was disclosed by Lee Peel, head of the school journalism department.

The association, which is sponsored by Columbia University in New York, each year grades student newspapers on their content, make-up and other phases of publication.

The Blue and White and the Key-note of Sauli Ste. Marie High School were the only two schools in the state to win a first place in their class — 751-1000 student enrollment. Twenty-nine student publications were awarded in Michigan, 17 of which were from the Detroit area. More than 1400 in the nation were awarded.

The Blue and White submitted two copies of each issue during the period of time covering from April 1 - December 1. D.G.

WHO PAYS
All increases in wages must be paid by someone—unless productivity increases sufficiently to provide a wage rise.

If the increases are paid by the owners and investors, at the expense of profits, it will be only a matter of time before there will be nobody left to pay any wages. If the wage increases are passed on to the customers in the form of constantly rising prices, more and more customers will refuse to buy—production will be cut down—more and more employees will have no work to perform.
