

Students Perform At Local Players' Open House Sat.

As a special feature the Farmington High Drama Society, under the direction of Lee Peel, presented the play "The Valiant" at a meeting of the Farmington Players held Saturday evening at the high school band room.

The opinion was expressed that the young players demonstrated some exceptional dramatic abilities. Jana Brown, who appeared in the play, also presented her dramatic reading from Faust for which she recently won second place honors in a Regional Forensic contest.

The group was also entertained by Betty Tellier, who gave her comic impersonation of a famous New York opera singer.

A scene from the Farmington player production "Two Blind Mice" was presented as well. Bob Stone, John Courville and Max Miller showed a sample of the entertainment which will be provided when the play is staged May 10, 11, 17, and 18. Curtain time for all performances will be 8:30 p.m.

In addition to regular members of the Players group several guests attended the open house Saturday. Many reportedly signed up as members while still others indicated a desire to join.

A social hour was held at the close of the meeting.

Along The Creek In Woodcreek

EMOGENE DAVIS MA. 6-1407

Woodcreekers are asked to take notice that the time for a spring cleanup campaign is at hand.

We note that there are many vacant lots and ditches along the road filled with unsightly tin cans, discarded signs, paint buckets, papers and other litter. If each person would put forth a little extra effort and clean up the areas adjacent to his property, it would greatly improve the neatness of the subdivision.

Harold, our rubbish man, has offered to make a special trip Sunday, May 5, to pick up extra rubbish. Scat around your neighborhood this weekend, clean up the debris and have it ready for pickup Sunday.

Mary Tyghem's twenty guests from Woodcreek Farms gathered at her home at 11 o'clock last Wednesday for punch and then journeyed en-masse to the auditorium at Federal's store on Grand River at Oakman for luncheon and cards.

The party was sponsored by the Livonia Branch of the American Cancer Society. Many of Mary's guests took home prizes, with Vera Norwall the luckiest of all. She won an automatic electric skillet and was so thrilled with her prize that she promised to treat the girls to bacon and eggs some day soon.

Troop 48 under the leadership of Mr. Duquet had charge of the First Aid exhibit at the Scout-O-Rama Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Tippet, Carol and Judy, enjoyed a week's motor trip over Easter traveling to Chicago and St. Louis.

Denise Seay, Gilbert Preuss, Danny and Brian McCarthy representing Eagle and Bond schools, played at a band concert last Friday night at Farmington Junior High School.

Democratic Club
To Meet May 7

The monthly meeting of the Farmington Democratic Club will be held Tuesday evening, May 7, at 8 p.m. at the Botsford Inn, new meeting place for the group.

Arrangements are being made to have either a well known Democratic State Legislator or a member of the State Administration Board as guest speaker.

Plans will also be discussed for a pollack dinner and dance to be held May 18 at the Norwest Recreation on Northwestern Highway at 14 Mile Road.

All residents of the Farmington area have been invited to attend the May 7 meeting of the Democratic Club.

High School and will play and sing at another concert there tomorrow night.

The mothers of Mrs. Preuss' Brownies in Troop 229 are enjoying the novel gifts they received for Easter. The girls played marionettes, naturistics, ivy and seedlings in empty egg shells, then placed them in gaily colored egg cartons to make charming planters for the window sills.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson went on a 10 day sightseeing trip to Washington, D. C., and the Smokey Mountains in Virginia and North Carolina. They returned Sunday to find spring at its loveliest here. Relatives from Belleville accompanied them.

Bluebirds Visit Food Fair Market

A visit to the Food Fair Super Market was made by members of the Friendly Bluebirds of Farmington last Wednesday, April 24, as a part of its regular weekly meeting.

The young girls were taken behind the scenes of a chain market's operation. The girls were especially interested in seeing how the meat was stored, cut-up, weighed and packaged and in viewing the large walk-in coolers where produce and frozen foods are stored.

Returning to the Ten Mile School after visiting the market, Diane McPhail served refreshments after which the girls discussed their trip.

Hostess at an earlier meeting of the group was Wendy Pitroff. Judeann Walker was hostess at the meeting on Wednesday, May 1, with Diane Terry as a guest.

Youth Raises Two Wild Rabbits From Infancy

Two small wild rabbits will be set free soon by young Allan Kirby of 21311 St. Francis Street to go their way in nature.

Turned up by his father while doing some grading work as infants, the two rabbits along with three others were brought home where they were cared for with utmost caution by Allan. The two which survived were fed by him, first with an eye dropper and then with a baby bottle.

It is felt that they have grown sufficiently to be set free, Allan's mother said.
